Patrolman suspended

John Hayden, Pass Christian policeman involved in a Monday shooting incident was temporarily suspended by the Pass Christian board of aldermen and Mayor Steve Saucier, pending the outcome of an investigation.

The suspension, effective Wednesday, follows the incident that left a 21-year-old Bay St. Louis man, John Langurand, in poor condition at Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

The suspension according to the Pass Christian officials, is "routine procedure."

In the council's regular business, it appointed Robert Allen and Bernard Giadrosich to three-year terms on the city's planning commission. Mrs. Jessie McKay was re-appointed to a five-year term on the library board.

Also the board took under advisement bids from five Gulf Coast contractors for the water main project from Well to Everett Street. The apparent low bidder was Beta Enterprises of Gulfport with $14,740. The consulting engineers Brown and Russell placed the water main cost estimate at $15,000 for the entire project.

Also received was one bid on the fishing pier and one bid on the harbor's electrical work. John R. Hayward of Waveland bid $5,990 for the pier work, and Charles L. Donlin of Pass Christian bid $1,842 for the electrical work at the harbor.

Shooting victim listed as fair

WAVELAND - A young black male remained in guarded condition at Gulfport Memorial Hospital Monday following surgery for two gunshot wounds received Thanksgiving morning in an argument with another black male.

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said Henry Paul Jordan, 23, of 304 A Camille Circle, Waveland had been charged with assault and battery with intent to kill following the shooting Thursday of Clarence H. Hall, 105B Camille Circle.

Ladner said Hall, 25, had been shot twice, once in the right shoulder and once in the right chest with a 22 calibre revolver. The shooting occurred approximately 10 a.m. in front of Parker's Food Store on Old Spanish Trail.

No details of the argument were immediately available.

Jordan was being held without bond Monday at Hancock County Jail.

County to seek second loan

Hancock supervisors Monday approved a Port and Harbor request to acquire a one million dollar extension of credit for improvements to Stennis International Airport.

Port and Harbor Director Wilson Webre told supervisors that the commission had deemed it necessary to acquire an additional loan up to $1 million for the completion of the runway extension project.

The county has executed a previous note in favor of Hancock Bank for $1 million of which, Webre said, the full amount had been borrowed. Of that loan, $279,108 is presently owed.

In another matter supervisors also approved a resolution awarding the Scott Fence Co. contract to erect approximately 327 linear feet of fence at the Port Bienville Industrial Park. Scott's bid was $3,230.

Peacetime mission

The S.S. Benjamin Waterhouse sits peacefully in the industrial channel of the Port Bienville Industrial Park Monday after its 48 hour journey from Mobile, Ala. by tug last week. The WW 11 Liberty Ship is one of five such ships being dismantled and salvaged by the International Demolition and Salvage Company at the Port Bienville Park. The hulls of the vessels are later to be scuttled between 7 and 15 miles off the southeast tip of Horn Island in the Mississippi Sound under the supervision of the U.S. Corps of Engineers to create two artificial fishing reefs within easy fishing range of Gulf Coast sport fishermen. See related story and pictures on page A-4 of today's paper.

Mayor pro tem stalemated

The Long Beach board of aldermen Tuesday night failed to name a mayor pro-tem, who would serve in the absence of the mayor, when three motions died for lack of a second and a fourth motion was voted down.

Michael Rutledge, serving as alderman for the first time since his election last month, nominated Alderman Jimmy Savarese for the position; the motion died for lack of a second. Alderman Sal Giuffria then moved that Jimmy Moran be named mayor pro-tem because of a gentleman's agreement decided by "a coin toss at an earlier meeting;" this motion also died for lack of a second. Rutledge then nominated Bob Richards for the position, and again the nomination died. Finally, Moran nominated Giuffria, and Giuffria seconded his own nomination. But the motion lost when the other three aldermen voted against him.

Maxwell told the Echo after the meeting that he would make a recommendation to the board members on the mayor pro-tem post if the board requests him or if the vote is hopelessly stalemated.

The board accepted Rutledge's resignation from the Planning and Zoning Board so that he would have more time to devote to his aldermanic duties. Erwin "Yank" Kunz was appointed to fill the vacancy by a 3-2 vote. The two dissenting votes were Savarese and Richards who endorsed John "Sharp" Ellis for the position.

Sam Lauderdale was elected by acclamation to replace Leroy Nettles on the Zoning Board of Appeals. Prior to Lauderdale's election, Savarese and Richards failed to get John Ellis elected to that position.

The board, acting on the recommendations of Mayor Sam Maxwell, voted Giuffria as chairman of the Public Health and Sanitation Department and Rutledge as chairman of the Finance Committee. Maxwell had been serving as the chairman over both of these departments.

Also, Rutledge was appointed to three departments - Public Health and Sanitation, the Street Committee, and the Water and Sewer Committee.

The board, acting upon a month-old request, voted to give $500 to the Children's International Summer Village. Village representatives had requested $1,000. Moran, who said at the last meeting that he needed more time to determine if preferential consideration was given to certain applicants, said that although he was still not satisfied with the criteria for choosing the children, he felt the village was a worthwhile cause.

The board authorized a final payment of $4,379 to W. E. Smallwood for the completion of the city hall addition.

On a suggestion by Rutledge, the board voted unanimously to construct a three foot wide bicycle path along the railroad from Nicholson Avenue east to Richards Avenue at a cost not to exceed $700. The construction is pending approval of L&N Railroad granting the right-of-way.

Rutledge also proposed to have a study group that would suggest changes in the zoning ordinances. The proposal was taken under advisement.

The board commended Sam Lauderdale for his successful request of $8,000 from the Harrison County board of supervisors for the city's senior citizens. The money will come out of revenue-sharing. In a related matter, the senior citizens reported receiving $935 at Saturday's bazaar.

The board agreed to pay all its bills except the travel expenses incurred by Alderman Savarese. Giuffria questioned Savarese's request for payment on the maintenance of his car. City Attorney Harold DeMetz asked to take the matter under advisement.

In other business Moran revealed that he was $85 short of the $100 he promised Mayor Maxwell for his ten mile hike for the Crippled Children Center in Kiln. Donations for the cause are being accepted at the fire and police departments.

Bay to get computer

After lengthy bickering over the relative merits of either buying a new Burroughs mini-computer or contracting with a computer service, the Bay St. Louis council accepted a motion to buy the mini-computer.

Mayor Warren Carver objected strenuously to Utility commissioner Lucien Kidd's proposal to buy the Burroughs machine at a total cost of $31,629. Carver contested Kidd's statement that the machine, which would be used for a number of services in the department, would save the city $132,000 over a ten-year period.

On the contrary, Carver maintained, considering the cost of maintenance, additional trained personnel to operate the machine and depreciation the Burroughs machine would cost the city an additional $51,460 over a ten-year period.

Commissioner Clarence Ladner, who had remained silent throughout most of the exchange, finally settled the matter by seconding Kidd's initial motion for purchase.

The possibility that the council has been performing illegally in the manner of approving and recording monthly claims dockets came to light when council clerk Eddy Engelhorn raised a question over approval of the claims docket.

Engelhorn said he was getting his claims docket list from warrants (checks) already issued by the city clerk's department, rather than from the original list approved during a regular council meeting.

Under further questioning from the press, Kidd explained that the docket was submitted to him for approval and funding and then to the Mayor. On his approval, the warrants are drawn and the list given to Engelhorn for insertion in the minutes. Ladner is bypassed altogether and under this system, Kidd admitted that only he and the Mayor are aware of what monies are being expended.

City attorney Joseph Gex verified that the usual procedure for public bodies was for the entire council or board to consider the claims docket at an open meeting and accept it by motion at that time. Gex said he was under the impression that this method was required by state statute.

In the early months of their term the council members had followed this procedure but Ladner said that it was discontinued on the Mayor's insistence that considering the docket during a meeting was too time consuming.

The matter of publishing the claims docket in a local newspaper also came up.

The city's claims docket has not been published during this council's term of office, although Gex said he was under the impression that this, too, was required by state law. Although all public bodies are required to publish dockets, only the Hancock County board of supervisors and the county school board complies with a monthly publication.

Gex said he would investigate both matters further.

In other business, the council passed a motion to refund a monthly garbage fee to Eckerd's Drugstore as the store has contracted with a private trash collection company and does not receive city service.

Grant or loan? LeVasseur mum

Hancock School Board financier Ed LeVasseur was keeping mum Wednesday about private meetings with federal and state officials regarding repayments of federal monies received by the board following Hurricane Camille in 1969.

The controversy surrounding the federal money, which was designated to help put the county schools back in operation, settles on whether the money was in the form of a grant or a loan. Approximately $127,000 is involved, according to superintendent of education E.E. Breland. An exact figure is difficult to determine, however, because figures of federal monies are tied in sometimes with figures from insurance companies which also made payments to the county following Camille.

LeVasseur places the figure at $900,000, but has not said how much of that figure the federal government is claiming is owed them.

LeVasseur has contended that no stipulation of repayment was placed on the federal money when it was given to the board and that the money was a grant. The federal government, he has told school board officials in previous statements, is trying "to come in here after five years and say this thing was a loan."

Federal and state officials present at the office of the county school board Tuesday included Robert Allgood and Curtis Mills, from the department of Health, Education, and Welfare's regional office in Atlanta; Bill Bowers from the federal Office of Education in Washington; and Ben Dyal from the Mississippi State Department of Education.

LeVasseur said that a full report would be released later this week by both sides.

"Right now," he said, "I can't tell you anything that would not be anything but conjecture."

LeVasseur said that the offices of U.S. Senators James Eastland and John Stennis, as well as that of U.S. Representative Trent Lott, were also involved with working out the matter.

LeVasseur and board attorney Joseph Gex traveled to Washington recently in attempts to get a clearer understanding of the issue.

USM builds first graduate library in state

Ground has been broken at the University of Southern Mississippi for the first graduate library building to be conceived and financed in the state of Mississippi.

Dr. William D. McCain, president, turned the first symbolic shovel of dirt this week at the site, directly opposite the Joseph A. Cook Memorial Library. Stressing the impact of the construction, due to be completed by March 1976, Dr. McCain pointed out that "this building and its official collections will greatly strengthen the graduate programs at the University of Southern Mississippi."

An appropriation of just over $2 million by the 1974 legislature provides the funding. The 40,000 square feet of floor space in the four-story unit will greatly increase the existing library facility of about 100,000 square feet.

This new library is the sixth major current construction project at USM. Others include the stadium addition, student union building, School of Nursing structure, the complete remodeling of Southern Hall, and an addition to the Student Services building.

Busing comes to Bay-Waveland

Stop, bus! Let me on

Bay-Waveland residents will be treated to something unique in this part of the county next week.

The Mississippi Coast Transit Authority, through the cooperation of the board of supervisors and the two cities' councils, will provide three days of free bus service to residents.

The demonstration is to illustrate to both residents and governing authorities alike the need for such public transportation system and the availability of the system through MCTA.

The Echo is pleased to publish a bus route map and time schedule for those residents who would like to take advantage of the opportunity to leave the car at home and ride with MCTA next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The route has been carefully worked out to service all populated residential areas as well as including city halls, the court house, and all schools in the two cities - public, private and parochial. So check the time schedules and let the kids ride to and from school for the two days. We also suggest to residents that they consider the enjoyment of just getting on at the beginning of the route and riding the whole way (or stay on for two or three trips - it's free!) for a relaxing, enjoyable scenic drive through the cities.

Bay and Waveland councils are considering MCTA's proposal for establishing a permanent bus route in Hancock County which would include routes through Diamondhead, Kiln, White Cypress and to the county schools.

Quick change artists

Lining up to board the MCTA bus for a demonstration ride Wednesday morning in the Bay are Ed Hall, Sam Favre, Mayor Warren Carver, Jimmy Traviera (who got a head start) and Mayor John Longo. All that fumbling for change is really a joke - the buses will run next week free.

Pass shooting investigated

A 21 year-old Pass Christian policeman has been suspended and District Attorney Albert Necaise has called for further investigation into the Monday night shooting of a Bay St. Louis man.

John Languirand, a 21 year-old Bay St. Louis man, was admitted to Gulfport Memorial Hospital with a gunshot wound in the upper back. According to a hospital spokesman, Languirand is in poor condition with possible permanent paralysis.

Languirand was shot about 10:30 Monday night when Pass patrolman John Hayden, reported to Shadow Lawn, investigating a prowler complaint.

Hayden later told authorities that he identified himself as a police officer when he saw a car parked on the street and a man standing beside it. Hayden said that he fired two warning shots. One of the shots struck Languirand in the upper back.

Passengers in the car were Ricky Foley, 19, of Waveland, and Kim Merritt, 19, of Bay St. Louis.

According to one of the witnesses, Hayden did not identify himself as a police officer when he approached the car. The witness told the Echo that Languirand was not the man who was standing outside the car. The witness said that the passenger who was standing beside the car pulled up when Hayden started to drive off. Hayden fired, the witness said.

Necaise said that he has requested additional information on the case before he can make a determination as to what course should be followed.

Mayor Steve Saucier has requested that the Harrison County Sheriff's Department investigate the shooting.

State leads in bicentennial communities

Secretary of State Heber Ladner, Chairman of the Mississippi American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, announced today that "Mississippi leads the Southeastern section of the United States in nationally recognized Bicentennial communities."

Twenty communities in Mississippi have been honored as national Bicentennial communities by the national Bicentennial Administration in Washington.

Ladner stated that the goal of the state Commission is to give every Mississippian the opportunity to show his love for, and his faith in, America for the Bicentennial. To achieve this goal, the Commission endorsed the national Bicentennial communities program. "I am proud of our elected municipal officials," Ladner said, "for taking such personal interest in the Bicentennial Celebration of Achievement." He added: "I am convinced that the Bicentennial Celebration of American Independence shall make our towns and cities, and thus our state and nation still better places in which to live."

Commission Director Perry A. Snyder emphasized that the Bicentennial is taking place in all parts of the state and in large and small communities alike. Among the larger cities that are involved in the Bicentennial are Tupelo, Biloxi, and Hattiesburg. Fulton, Pachuta and Waynesboro are a few of the smaller communities in the state that have received national recognition.

Company trades cans for cash

The aluminum recycling programs at Anheuser-Busch, Inc. and at Crescent Distributing Co. will be paying the public 15 cents per pound for all-aluminum cans during December.

Every Monday and Friday from noon to 5 p.m. at Anheuser-Busch, Inc., 14200 Chef Menteur Hwy. and every Tuesday and Thursday from 2 to 4 p.m. at Crescent Distributing Co., 712 St. George St., the public may redeem their all-aluminum cans for 15 cents per pound. New Orleans area citizens collected over 333,780 all-aluminum cans last month.

According to David P. Reynolds, executive vice president and general manager for Reynolds Metals Co., since the initiation of the company's recycling program, more than $15 million has been paid out to the public for all-aluminum scrap. In the process, he said, almost 6 billion cans have been recycled, diverted from the litter and solid waste stream. Last year, Reynolds recycled about 25 percent of the cans it produced.

Back School reunion set for Feb. 23

Plans have been firm and a date of February 23 set for a first time reunion of alumni of St. Stanislaus Back School.

A steering committee, composed of Ellis Cuevas, E. J. Marengo and Brother Aquin Gauthier, announce that reunion activities will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Stanislaus Student Union.

The three men have been working for a year to contact as many former Back School students as possible for the reunion. Br. Aquin has issued an appeal for photographs of the school and students to display at the reunion cocktail party.

All former students of the Back School are cordially invited to attend with their wives and are asked to contact any member of the steering committee in advance. Anyone willing to help with reunion plans should also contact the committee.

Cuevas can be reached at the Sea Coast Echo, 467-5473, Marengo at Coastal Insurance Agency, 467-9351, and Br. Aquin at Stanislaus, 467-9057.

The Back School was run by the Stanislaus Brothers for many years as a day school for boys in classes from first to eighth grade. The school, located in a building behind the main campus, was discontinued 10 years ago.

Liberty ship gets peacetime mission

by Dan Barber
Far away from the booming guns and the mine-infested beachheads, the S.S. Benjamin Waterhouse is being prepared for its last operation. Walking through the rusting corridors of the mothballed Liberty Ship, a cabinet door swings halfway open, a radio room left abandoned but intact—the young men who served her never to return. One of five such Liberty Ships to be scrapped for salvage and then sunk to create artificial fishing reefs, the Benjamin Waterhouse still retains the aura of the war years it survived. Before being scuttled, the Waterhouse and her four sister ships, will be stripped of their valuable ferrous metal are being moved by tug one at a time from Mobile, Ala. "We are going to try to salvage everything humanly possible," Scardino said. "We feel this operation has a multifold benefit to the county," he added. "It will aid the economic revitalization of the county, benefit the sport fishermen in the area, help the Port Bienville facilities, and maybe hopefully result in a permanent installation here by International." "We are still holding to our original estimate," Scardino said, "that we will put back into the community about $1.2 million."

International, which is using building space previously occupied by Coastal Millwork and Supply Co., intends to market the recyclable scrap iron from its warehouse at the industrial park after dismantling the ships. "All revenue that we derive will come from the sale of all the salvageable material we can take from the vessels," Scardino said. The Liberty ships, which at the peak of the war were being built at the rate of one per day, were used primarily as cargo vessels. Around 2,500 of the ships were built before the end of the war. More than any other type of ship since constructed. Other vessels scheduled to arrive this week at the Port Bienville facility were the James Caldwell and the Richard Upjohn. In a side note, Scardino said that the James Caldwell had received the bronze star for action in June of 1944, presumably for its participation in the D-Day assault.

by the International Demolition and Salvage Company who purchased the five ships from the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission under bid for $50,000. The Nashville based firm recently contracted with the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission to perform the salvage work at the Port Bienville Industrial Park in Ansley, Miss. Under the agreement with the marine commission, International will dismantle the ships to an 11 foot vertical line above the keel before sinking the remaining hulls off the southeastern tip of tiny Horn Island in the Mississippi Sound. The hulls are intended to create two artificial fishing reefs for sport and pleasure fishermen. International president A. J. Scardino Jr. estimated that it would take two months and a crew of 60 to salvage each ship depending on weather. The ships which have an overall length of 441 feet six inches and a breadth of 57 feet

Park Service proposal opposed

by David Pierson
Long Beach Bureau

The National Park Service proposal to develop portions of Horn and Petit Bois islands and designate the rest of the acreage as wilderness was opposed Monday by a majority of those testifying at a public hearing in Biloxi. The park service proposal called for wilderness designation for about 88 percent of the 4,600 acres and for development of the remaining 12 percent.

However, most of those testifying endorsed the citizen's wilderness proposal which called for total wilderness designation of both the islands.

BILL KULICK ... Coast Episcopal student voiced his opposition to the National Park Service's proposal for partial development.

The islands, which lie six to 12 miles off the Mississippi coast, are the only undeveloped islands in the Gulf Islands National Seashore.

Governor Bill Waller, in a letter read by Ray Sanders of the Mississippi Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, endorsed the citizens' proposal by saying, "I support the inclusion of all lands of Horn and Petit Bois to wilderness designation." He added that he did not see any reason for the development of the islands.

Special program scheduled Wed.

A special drug abuse information program, open to the public, has been scheduled for Dec. 11, 7:30 p.m. at North Bay Elementary School on Dunbar Ave.

Presented by the Community Drug Council, the program is geared to parents and young adults.

Speaking on diverse topics in the area of drug misuse will be a panel composed of: Dr. Roger Fox, Gulf Coast Community Health Center, who will speak on Center services for the public; Ronny Peterson, Hancock Sheriff's Dept., who will present a display of the most commonly misused narcotics and paraphernalia; Wilmer at this time because "development is a one-way street."

Former U.S. Representative William Colmer, who was one of the driving forces that got the National Park Service to supervise the islands, endorsed the park service's proposal so that the islands would not be open to just a few people.

In a written statement, Rep. Trent Lott, Colmer's successor to Congress, expressed appreciation for the island's preservation up to this time, and he stated that he did not believe the islands should be commercialized. He did admit that he would like to make the islands accessible to the general public.

John Anderson of the citizens' task force for Wilderness, attacked Colmer's statement that the islands would be "a rendezvous for a particular few people who are interested in nature or ecology." Anderson said that wilderness designation does not exclude anyone from visiting the islands. He submitted about 1,000 signatures of people endorsing the citizens' proposal, and he read a list of about 15 organizations that also backed the citizens' plan.

State Rep. Gerald Blessey of Biloxi received an ovation from the audience of about 200 when he said, "Those persons who are interested in safety should stay at home." He said that the park service's proposal was a contradiction since development and wilderness cannot coexist on the same island. He answered supporters of the park service proposal by saying, "A wilderness should not die to easy accessibility to the islands."

Both the Harrison and Jackson county board of supervisors endorsed the park service plan as being "in the best interest of the citizens". William Stuart of the Harrison County board reiterated the desire to make the islands more accessible to the general public.

The Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce, represented by Lillian Billard, said that it was "100 percent in favor of keeping Petit Bois and Horn islands wilderness." Miss Billard went on to read that "We must protect part of the coast" and said that a charter boat could easily be attained to bring people to the island.

Gulfport, Biloxi, and Pascagoula Chambers of Commerce, on the other hand, favored the park service's proposal. The Gulfport chamber added that unloading docks were needed, and improvements should be made for "safety and reasonable comfort."

A spokesman for Youth for Environmental Action, Dan Himmel, attacked the park service proposal as being "well-written to be easily misunderstood."

James Bright, representing the Mississippi Gulf Coast Innkeepers Association, said development of the islands was needed to attract tourists to the coast. He said that tourists are interested in places such as Ship Island, and therefore the coast should develop the remaining islands "because we need something to bring people to the coast."

SHARON ANDERSON ... CEHS student who spoke in favor of the total wilderness proposal.

Numerous chapters of the Audubon Society and the Sierra Club endorsed the total wilderness designation plan.

Dr. Donald Bradburn, a conservationist photographer who spoke recently at Coast Episcopal High concerning the islands future, said that "True wilderness designation excludes only man's changes, not man." He said that total wilderness is the only way to ensure that the life on the island would not be endangered.

Dr. J. K. Williams of the Gulf Islands National Seashore Commission Advisory Board said that his office had received many recommendations on "both ends of the spectrum." He said that some people had even suggested that a causeway be built, and others said that construction should be done on the islands to increase the tax-base of the municipalities. He also said that he received many requests for total wilderness designation. Williams said that, in his opinion, the park service proposal was "highly professional." And he attacked those who didn't want the Park Service to supervise the beauty of the islands. He said that the park service was needed so as to maintain the beauty of the area.

Mrs. Anne Bradburn, however, said that the point of contention was not the park service's supervision of the islands but their proposal. "We (proponents of total wilderness designation) wouldn't want anyone but the park service to supervise these islands," she said.

Mrs. Bradburn said that the reason for the confusion over this point was the Gulf Coast Forum printed in Sunday's Sun-Herald which read "Should Park Service Control Islands?" She said this was a gross misunderstanding of the whole issue. Later, she said, "The Herald should know better."

The issue over development of the islands, according to Hearing Officer Jackson E. Price, now goes to the regional office for its consideration. The regional office will make its recommendation to the National Park Service which will relay the request to the Secretary of the Interior. From there, the matter will go to the President who will send it to Congress as legislation to be acted upon.

The National Park Service will continue to accept written comments on its proposal through January 2. Those interested in writing should address their comments to the Hearing Officer, in care of the Park Manager, Gulf Islands National Seashore, P.O. Drawer T, Ocean Springs, Miss. 39664.

Monetary injection not so bad

The increasing outpourings of pros and cons of the DuPont plant in DeLisle are becoming tiresomely repetitious.

The matter is belabored, and, in Hancock County at least, is reminiscent of past issues receiving similar treatment. There are those still griping about the Port and Harbor Industrial Park development (after all, a long standing habit is hard to break), about the airport, about NASA-NSTL.

Now it's DuPont. Those in favor of the plant's inception in the DeLisle area far outnumber those who profess to be against it, however, which does say something for the general atmosphere.

The management of this newspaper is in favor of the Du Pont plant and feels that the addition of such an industrial complex will greatly enhance the economy of the Gulf Coast.

And as for the chemical company's potential dangers to our ecology, we can only consider the fact that our ecology has been sullied and endangered for some time before Du Pont even considered the Harrison county site... not by "outside influences", or insensitive industry... but by its own residents whose septic tanks, cesspools and inadequate residential waste disposal methods are doing a good job of polluting on their own.

It's actually possible that Du Pont may create a more favorable ecological balance by monetary injection.

World's most needed gift

Each day's news adds another harsh stroke to the dark portrait of tragic world conditions. Reports of abject poverty and famine afflicting hundreds of millions overseas overwhelm us in their enormity.

As the holidays approach -- traditionally when we specially help the needy -- many people are asking: what can one person do in the face of such massive suffering? What can one person do to help?

The fact is, you can do a lot more than you may realize.

Through CARE, a life-saving link is provided between Americans who want to help and those who need it most in 36 countries of Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East. CARE provides food and medical aid, plus self-help-development programs to assist struggling families to grow more food.

The holiday season CARE Food Crusade asks us to help feed 22 million people, mostly children, in preschool and nutrition centers and schools, many of which CARE helped build. To provide the daily feedings throughout the coming year, CARE requires $7.3 million in individual donations.

The rest of the costs are covered by host government contributions and U.S. government supplies of farm foods, so the aid-value of your dollars are multiplied. For example: $5 gives 270 children full, nutritious lunches... $10 gives 3600 children cups of protein-enriched beverage... $25 delivers 500 pounds of food.

You can do a lot more than you think -- by giving the world's most needed gift, bringing life and hope to the poorest of the poor. You can mail your holiday contribution check to: CARE Food Crusade, 2581 Piedmont Rd., N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30324.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Some twenty years after Hendrick Hudson discovered the port of New York, Peter Minuit brought a group of Dutch settlers to the spot, erected a fort, and bought the island of Manhattan from the Indians. The Dutch folks also brought with them a song, a folk hymn of praise and thanksgiving for the blessings which the Almighty had showered on them during the year.

When the first English colony was established in New England, their first winter was a hard one, and the harvest in 1621 was so scanty that there was fear of starvation. In spite of the hardship, Governor Bradford announced that "the harvest being gotten in", he had "sent four men out on fowling, so that we might, after a more special manner, rejoice together after we had gathered the fruit of our labor". Aided by the friendly Indians, a feast was then spread in a clearing, and all of the Plymouth Rock colonists joined in a celebration of the first American Harvest Home.

Sometime during the next hundred years, all of the English colonists along the Atlantic coast gradually adopted the old Dutch Hymn of Thanksgiving for their celebrations of harvest home, and appreciation for this simple folk song has not diminished over more than three hundred years.

"We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing.
 He chastens and hastens His will to make known.
 The wicked oppressing now cease to be distressing;
 Sing praises to His name, for He forgets not His own.
 "We all do extol Thee, Thou leader Triumphant
 And pray that Thou still our defender wilt be.
 Let Thy congregation escape all tribulation,
 Thy name be ever praised in glory--
 Lord make us free!
 Time -- and the changes it brings -- has greatly affected our Day of Thanksgiving. In 1621 the people had one special reason for giving thanks; today there are so many reasons that we have grown indifferent to most of them, have come to look on them as normal and usual. We value life, but we do little to preserve it. We value freedom, but often confuse it with tolerance. One verse of the Hymn says: "So from the beginning, The fighting we were winning. Thou Lord wast at our side. And all the glory by Thine!" but today the politicians have sort of moved in on the Lord and are claiming most of the glory.

So today suppose we take time to roughly evaluate just how blessed we are, and go back to the fundamentals for which the Pilgrims gave thanks. We have life, liberty and bounty; we have long stretches of peace; most of us lead placid, untroubled lives. If we are ruffled now and then, we should remember what Mark Twain said: "A certain amount of fleas is good for a dog; they keep him from forgetting that he is a dog."

So let us truly give thanks on this day and "Sing praises to His name, for He forgets not his own."

HOLDING HIS COURSE

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

As I said many times during a recent round of speeches in the Fifth Congressional District, Americans are a compassionate people. We have never turned our back on the rest of the world.

There comes a time, however, when generosity exceeds the bounds of reason.

Take the case of the recent World Food Conference in Rome. Not unexpectedly, we came out of that conference lugging the ball for the rest of the world.

If nothing new developed, however, it at least ignited a spark of thoughtful introspection in the United States Congress. And if all goes well, the Congress just might provide a new sense of direction for our giveaway efforts.

I'm speaking of H. R. 17441, a bill which states -- among other things -- that while the U. S. will not turn her back on anyone in case of extreme emergency, we will give priorities to those countries which demonstrate a desire to help themselves. In other words, it would put an end to the ABSOLUTE giveaway and initiate a program of "We'll help you only if you strive to help yourself."

Basically, the bill would amend Public Law 480, a good-will piece of legislation enacted back in 1954 as a vehicle by which we assist the world's starving nations with food. H. R. 17441 would continue that program with this one exception:

No. P. L. 480 funds would be used to provide food assistance to ANY country whose population is growing faster than the world population average IF such countries are not making "reasonable efforts to begin family planning programs." Furthermore, we will give "priorities to those countries which demonstrate a desire to help themselves.

Now, I don't think I need to remind anyone of my disgust with our nation's foreign aid program. Helping someone in time of need is one thing, but shouldering the overwhelming brunt of the load while the rest of the world snickers under their breath is another.

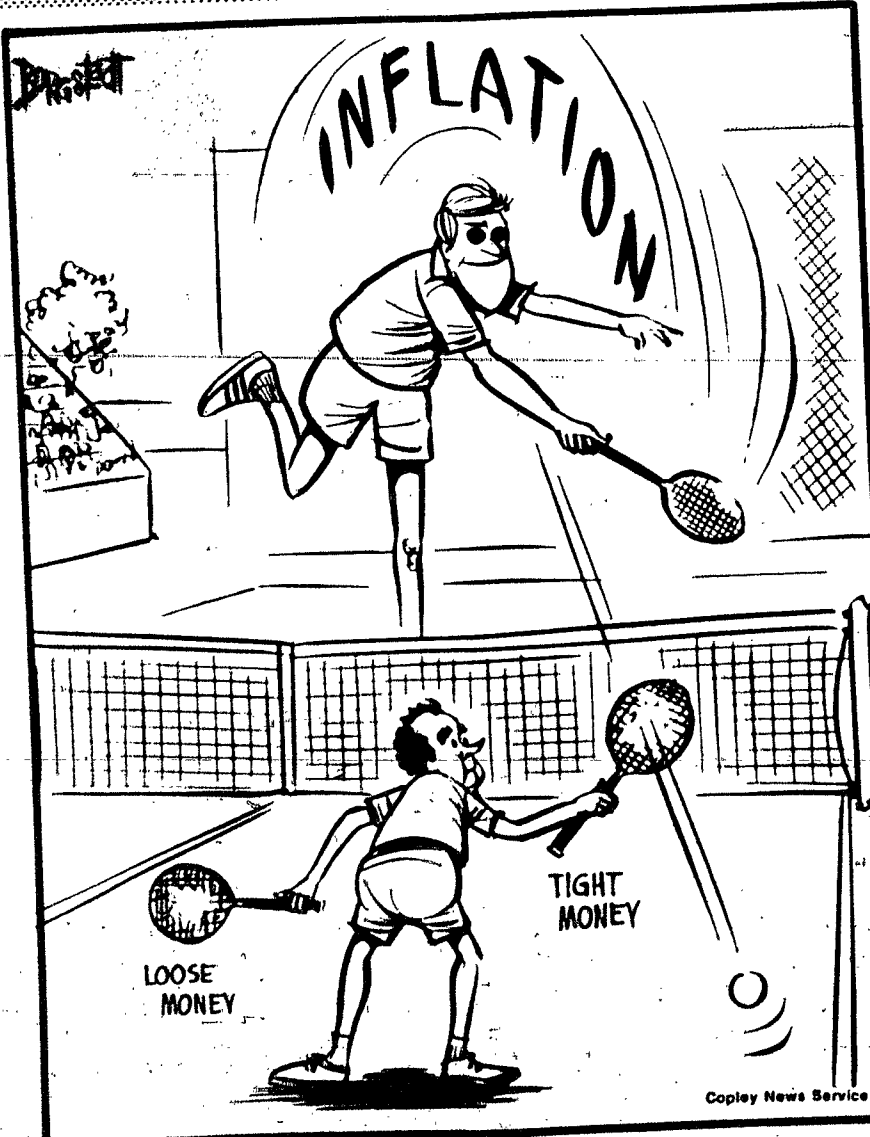

This bill, as I see it, would at least curtail our massive handouts to those ungrateful nations who abuse our good will. Additionally, it would provide assistance only to those nations who exhibit a desire to help themselves.

"No country in the history of the world has been as receptive to the plight and suffering of our less fortunate, impoverished fellow-man than the United States," one of my colleagues pointed out recently in the House of Representatives. "No country has been as gracious and generous in the face of disaster."

Like him, I feel a sense of pride that America has become a symbol for the simple act of sharing. We have always been blessed with bountiful food reserves, much of which has always gone to needy people throughout the world.

"But the day of unending U. S. food reserves seems to be at an end," that same colleague said. "We have arrived at a time when, considering our own spiraling prices, our depleted reserves, weather uncertainty and the ballooning world population, we must look to altering our food assistance program and bring it in line with the world situation."

I totally agree with that frank assessment and will closely follow the progress of H. R. 17441. After all, we owe it to ourselves to restructure our food assistance programs.

Our Readers Write

Dear Sir:

Attorney George Riess, if quoted correctly, is not doing a thorough job of his home work, on the State of Mississippi and the DuPont Corp.

Mississippi's governmental responsibility as a whipping boy for any and all dissenters is out of reason and really no longer in vogue.

The children and I had the privilege last summer of observing some of the ecological studies being made on the Jordan River System by H. Iost, K. Chaplawala and Dr. Regina of Miss. State. They were not doing an emotional plea on the front page of the local newspaper. However, they did continuous readings and collected samples at regular intervals day and night over a period of days, to determine such things as amounts and rate of flow, temperature changes, oxygen content nutrients and marine life numbers present; their log records indicated these comparative studies had been going on for years.

These men were responsible biologists, micro-biologists, and marine biologists, collecting data which it is only logical to presume, was for use in decision making by state officials.

I find it incredible that anyone would be insulted by the amount of land DuPont bought in Harrison County, most individuals who could purchase that quantity out right would probably just tell you it was none of your business.

Mr. Riess as an attorney surely knows that for all intents except where inapplicable a corporation has the same constitutional rights as an individual.

Many states however have environmental regulations that require manufacturing plants to have park areas surrounding their operations. DuPont is not a fly-by-night up start company but an old solid firm with as large a foundation in chemical experience as there is to be found in the world.

I would suggest that Mr. Riess visit the DuPont Rose Gardens in Delaware before he gets insulted about deer parks. May I further suggest that deep well injection for the disposal of wastes is and has been in use in areas with large industrial concentrations apparently without objection from the ecologically "uptight" Sierra Club.

Could any reasonable person really believe that DuPont would depend on "another Chemical Co." for Chemical "Advice"? That ridiculous is really beyond my powers for conjecture.

I found two alleged facts in the story of 2,000 gallons of sodium chloride (SALT), and a temperature variation. One hour and 20 min. of sunshine would produce that much temperature change any day and neither ecologists nor attorneys have much control in that department. As for the salt, it is a natural chemical constituent in the Bay and if I can guesstimate as well as Mr. Riess, without any compensation for rain, or natural runoff from estuaries or changes of tidal effects, that amount of Sodium Chloride (Salt) should have about the same effect as one spoonful in a bathtub of water.

I am one member of the public, I am not lulled, but I am sick and tired of "class suits" which are defended at enormously increasing costs to the taxpayer.

Further as a Homo Sapien I wish to tell all ecological environmental planners that I have absolutely no desire to go swinging through the trees of Hancock County to try to feed my kids on non-existent bananas.

The public which must work to perpetuate their families and support governments are people.

People with jobs are a necessary part of ecological environment -- or it is all meaningless! Especially attorneys?

Yours truly,
 Mrs. Elsie Napier

Dear Editor:

What one thing distinguishes our town, makes it different and sets it apart from countless others? Its beautiful coast, caressed by the Gulf. My husband and I used to drive sixty miles for just a few reflected in little pools between resting sandbars. Too far to go for such a little while? No! "Man does not live by bread alone". Whatever inspires with wonder and beauty refreshes his soul.

I opened my door one morning to bring in the paper. But sunlight, showering diamonds on the water, and trees and shrubs, bowing greetings to the wind, held me spellbound. Enchanted, welling emotions were turned into thoughts, then magically changed into words, falling into measured rhyme. The paper was forgotten -- as my pencil captured a poem.

A heaven of inspiration here in the Bay? Refreshing with wonder and beauty? Yes -- but only if we cherish, protect and preserve it, and other coastal areas, as we do our National Parks, for future generations.

Elizabeth H. Sullivan
 Bay St. Louis

Sir: David Pierson's closing comments on "Obituary for Oaks - Highway Dept. official okayed tree removal" were prejudiced and out of context.

First, east-bound traffic headed for Henderson Ave. or for North St. does not usually go through the longer route on US 90 but turns at Henderson Point - I said Henderson Point, not Avenue - on Bayview St., thence Cedar into North St., thus eliminating the crossing of the railroad tracks on Henderson Ave., which is imperative if one takes the US 90 route into Henderson Ave. from the beach, as you suggest. I often come to this intersection and have yet to see any traffic waiting to make a turn north from the east-bound highway.

Secondly, anyone wishing to travel north of Pass Christian from the west would reasonably take the shorter course by traveling through I-10.

The above two reasons automatically disprove the highway official's reasons for eliminating the beautiful oak trees, and your subsequent remarks that they "fell to the chemicals (corporations) (corporation)" is out of context and prejudiced against a corporation who has proven its philanthropy wherever it has settled. I search for facts, not politicians' words.

At this time of the year, I suspect there was another reason for chopping down the oak trees and I should like your reporter to pursue further his investigation and find out just where was the ultimate disposal of these oak logs. I am merely following the advice of our very capable president of the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc. "to turn our thoughts outward to our communities and do our bit to 'Preserve, Protect and Promote'.

Thank you sincerely,
 Mrs. Virgil H. Gianti,
 Chairman
 Environmental Improvement

Program: Pass Christian Garden Club

P.S. I agree with Mr. Ringer that the needed bay is for the west-bound traffic where there is none and where it is outright dangerous to attempt a right turn northward. At this corner there are many obstructions on the east border of Henderson Ave. that prevent the west-bound motorist from seeing the oncoming traffic as he attempts, with a prayer, to make a right hand turn northward. These commercial obstructions should be removed to the west border of Henderson Ave. and leave the east side clear. With the highway traffic in the rear, it is hard enough to turn on a narrow street fast enough to be missed and miss the oncoming south-bound traffic in front.

Ed. Note: The trees have been cut into logs by Bond Paving Co., Gulfport contractor on the job. A spokesman for the company advises that anyone wanting logs may contact the company main office.

Drugs and your health

by John F. Russell, M.D.

Drugs, especially hallucinogens, seem to come in letter combinations like alphabet soup. We've all heard much of LSD and then there is DOM, STP, MDA, DMT, TMA, and others. But perhaps, the one that is most commonly used and at the same time the least known, is PCP or phencyclidine.

It has been called by many names: the Peace Pill, angel dust, animal tranquilizer; it has been sold as many things: mescaline, psilocybin, LSD, and THC. It is, above all else, a potentially dangerous drug and most people don't even know they are taking it.

PCP was originally developed as an anesthetic drug for surgical use, but it had such undesirable side effects that all use on human beings was stopped. It first found its way into the drug scene on the West Coast in the summer of 1967 when it was called the Peace Pill, but it reportedly caused so many burn trips that it soon lost popularity and no one wanted it.

However, it was a very inexpensive drug to make and became an easy rip-off. For dopers who had become wary of LSD because of the garbage mixed with it and wanted a "safe, organic" drug, mescaline and THC sounded like the answer to their quest. However, making these drugs is an exceptionally expensive procedure and few would be willing to pay thirty dollars a hit. Little did those in the scene realize this, and only one sample in a thousand was actually mescaline, and none were THC. Almost all so called mescaline or THC, that have been analyzed have been determined to be PCP or PCP-LSD combinations...the very substances they were trying to avoid.

In research studies it was found that PCP caused unpleasant and extremely frightening experiences for most patients; there was an unusual preoccupation with death, a feeling of weightlessness, and diminishing body size.

One user described the effects of a heavy dose as follows: During the first six hours he felt better and better, intensely relaxed and euphoric. For the next six hours he felt "on top of the world" followed for about six more hours "so stoned out that it was impossible to move."

He felt as if he were under water although he reported no problems with breathing. He could roll about on the floor, but could not walk and didn't particularly feel like it.

The last six hours were ones of fear and paranoia. He was convinced that he was going to die or to go sleep and never awaken and then he finally drifted off to sleep. He said: NEVER AGAIN.

As if the gross hallucinations and paranoia weren't enough, PCP can also cause anxiety, restlessness, convulsions, muscular tremors, respiratory arrest and cardiac arrest. Combined with alcohol it has overdosed potential leading to death. The fact that it intensifies latent psychotic tendencies must also be considered. Who wants to spend the rest of his life in a mental institution?

The worst part of all is that this drug is usually sold as something else and one doesn't even realize what one is taking. It has a cumulative effect and bummer potential increases geometrically with the amount taken.

If it is thought to be LSD and a physician uses a sedative or tranquilizer to treat the patient, it could lead to possible convulsions or respiratory arrest. If the chemist isn't careful when synthesizing it, poisoning can occur. There are so many problems that it is really a very frightening drug.

Unless one is looking for a permanent escape from reality, he'd better stay away from the alphabet soup combinations and learn to take his trips by car, train or plane. The odds are a whole lot better!

One of Mississippi's most popular Christmas events will take place this year on December 13 and 14 as the Singing Christmas Tree at Belhaven College presents its 41st annual performance.

Thousands attend the outdoor concerts which annually herald the yuletide season for Mississippians. Last year the Tree celebrated its 40th birthday before the largest audience in history — about 20,000 persons.

Standing 30 feet tall and featuring over 800 multi-colored lights, the Tree will be presented at 8:15 nightly in the college athletic bowl.

The famed Belhaven College Concert Choir augmented by about 100 additional singers selected on the basis of audition make up the Tree choir. The music has changed little in format over the years. Both sacred and secular songs of the season are performed.

Living Christmas Tree draws thousands

Each singer holds a strand of five colored lights and large flood lights corresponding with the color of lights on the Tree are used. The lights on the Tree are changed to match the mood or feeling of each song. For example, green lights are used for "O Tan-nenbaum" and red lights bathe the Tree for the children's favorite "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer". The singers wear white robes with sequin collars to reflect the colored lights.

Musical direction and lighting are controlled from a pit dug a few yards in front of the Tree so that the effect is one of dignity and simplicity. When the Tree was originated in 1933 by the late Mrs. John T. Caldwell, professor of voice at the Presbyterian college, it was merely a small concert presented following the college's Christmas feast. Mrs. Caldwell came to realize that residents of the Belhaven area wished to attend the concerts. She and the college engineer designed and built the first wooden pyramidal frame for the Tree and the Tree was moved from the dining hall to a spot between the two Gothic columns overlooking the campus lagoon. The Tree audience grew over the years with persons from throughout Mississippi attending so the Tree was moved again to its present location in the athletic bowl allowing seating space on three sides. Now the spectacular performances are attended by persons from throughout the South.

The Tree has been under the direction of Henry Thomas Ford since 1962.

Spectators are accustomed to bringing cushions and blankets and sitting on the ground (often frozen) to attend the event which is Jackson's major non-commercial salute to the season.

Representative Smith:

Pay raise a legislative breakdown

"In regards to teachers' pay raises, I really don't know what happened. There was a real breakdown somewhere and I hope it doesn't happen again," said State Representative Lonnie Smith at a recent MEA meeting held at Bay High.

Representative Smith was the guest speaker at the local chapter's monthly meeting. "I was surprised when Governor Waller did not call a special session of the legislature, and was shocked when he (Governor Waller) stated that he had contacted 80 percent of the legislature," continued Smith.

"In the legislature you have friends, and people who could not give a continental about public education, and a group in the middle who can be swayed or cultivated. We must present ourselves to this neutral group and interest them in public education."

"We have a long way to go before we have a legislature responsive to public education, as we have too many 'Delta millionaires' in positions of leadership."

Regarding the Mississippi Education Association's legislative package for the upcoming year Representative Smith said "it is very good" and "I support it."

MEA has presented a list of proposals for the upcoming legislative session. Heading the list is the topic of teacher's pay raises, and the association stresses that no other proposal should be dealt with until the pay raise issue is cleared up.

Another of MEA's proposals is to end school tax exemptions for industries.

Of this proposal Representative Smith said, "I feel that we should discontinue school tax exemptions for industries in our state. We should spend more money to educate our people both academically and vocationally. By doing this we will have our money invested in our people. Industries will move in and provide jobs at our expense!"

When asked if there was enough money available for public education, Smith responded, "We have money to do many things we are not doing and we have to take them step by step. I know you thought your friends in the legislature let you down, but I really don't know what happened."

In other business the group nominated candidates for district and state offices. Nominated for president-elect of the Mississippi Education Association was Burt Barrett, chairman of the Bay High Science department.

A&amp;P launches fight against inflation

An early warning system on price increases and a price freeze on private label products were announced by the New Orleans Division of A&P Food Stores as the company launched a new consumer program to fight inflation.

J. Y. Brashear, vice president and general manager of the division, said initial steps in the company's Operation Aware program against inflation also included a consumer protection policy.

The early warning system will be keyed to the Aware list with each store posting on a weekly basis a list of all products that have increased in cost a full seven days before the retail prices are changed.

This will provide consumers an opportunity to stock up at the old price. "Be Aware" shelf tags will spotlight the more frequently-purchased items with the day the price is to be increased listed on the tag.

Under the voluntary price freeze on A&P private labels, present prices will be held on more than 1,000 products at least until the end of the year. These will include such everyday items as bread, cheese, coffee, tuna, pasta products, canned fruits and vegetables as well as frozen food items.

The 12-point Consumer Protection Policy represents A&P's continuing commitment in terms of service, satisfaction and information to help customers obtain the most for their money. The new policy is to be prominently displayed in each store.

Symphony to present new and novel 'Messiah'

After three years absence from the city's only full-scale production of Handel's oratorio "The Messiah," the New Orleans Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra has announced a new and novel presentation of the masterpiece, including a "sing-in" to be performed December 12, at 8 p.m.

Werner Torkanowsky will conduct the orchestra and the combined choirs of Loyola University and New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. Both choirs are directed by Dr. Larry Wyatt. The performance will take place in Baptist Seminary's Levee Chapel, 3939 Chef Menteur Highway, Symphony and Seminary spokesmen said that the seating capacity of the chapel is limited (approximately 1700) but that parking is plentiful.

Soloists for the December 12 performance will be Janet Stewart, soprano, Patricia Etienne, mezzo-soprano, Dennis Bailey, tenor, and Father Dominic Braud, bass-baritone. Etienne and Bailey have performed the "Messiah" previously with the New Orleans Symphony. Father Braud, a faculty member at St. Benedict's Monastery in St. Tammany Parish, is scheduled for a solo appearance with the New Orleans Orchestra in Covington on April 11. Janet Stewart most recently performed Britten's "War Requiem" with the Atlanta Symphony and Puccini's "Gianni Schicchi" with the Washington Opera Society.

N.O. Orchestra and company team for Ballet

Rory Foster, a member of the solo corps of the American Ballet Theatre, will be highlighted in the New Orleans Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra's 4th annual presentation of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Ballet" with Ballet Hysell. There will be two performances: on Saturday, December 14th at 8 p.m., and Sunday, December 15th at 2 p.m., both in the New Orleans Theatre of the Performing Arts, and conducted by Werner Torkanowsky.

Foster, the only "imported" artist in this year's Nutcracker production, was a member of Ballet Hysell for two years prior to his engagement with the American Ballet Theatre. Dawn Russo, a student of Harvey Hysell for the past five years, will dance the role of the Sugar Plum Fairy.

"The Symphony's Nutcracker performances offer an opportunity for area dancers to participate," Hysell said, "and we do have participation from other studios this season." Equally important is the fact that each year we do this, our dancers progress to the point that now we hardly have to bring in any outside artists," he continued. "The quality of the corps de ballet is so improved that a number of these talented New Orleans dancers are capable of dancing important classical leads," Hysell said.

Tickets for the Nutcracker Ballet with the New Orleans Symphony and Ballet Hysell are on sale at Werlein's Box Office and at the Symphony office. Mail orders should be sent to the New Orleans Symphony, 203 Carondelet Street, New Orleans, 70130. Telephone reservations may be made by calling the Symphony at 324-0404.

Two comedies scheduled at PRC

Pearl River Junior College's Delta Psi Omega will present two comedies December 10 at 7:30 p.m. in Moody Hall Auditorium. Student admission is 50 cents and adults $1.

The student presentation will be "Pomarine on the Potomac" and "The Better to Stalk You With, My Dear."

Connie Holmes, play director, said the general public is cordially invited to attend.

St. Catherine's may admit women

CAMBRIDGE, England — St. Catherine's College, Cambridge, is considering accepting women students after a 500-year men-only policy.

Among the ancient colleges here, three now admit women and a fourth will do so in 1976

Company presents Nutcracker Ballet

La Petite Ballet Company of Waveland will present Tchaikowski's charming "Nutcracker Ballet" as a holiday divertissement this Sunday at 4 p.m. at Sy Rosenthal Gym in Bay St. Louis.

Choreographed and designed by Pearl Peterman, the ballet will present the entire Nutcracker Suite performed by the 62 member ballet company.

The performance is open to the public with tickets available at the door. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

social events

Altar Society holds party

St. Ann's Altar Society held its meeting and annual Christmas party Monday night in the Parish Hall, Clermont Harbor.

Rev. Canisius Hayes, pastor of St. Ann's Church and spiritual director for the group, offered the opening prayer.

During the business session Mrs. Frank Corcoran, outgoing president, installed officers for the coming year. Taking office were Mrs. A. M. Thomas, president; Mrs. Davis Caillier, vice president; Mrs. Irene Graff, secretary and Mrs. Marie Reites, treasurer.

Mrs. Corcoran thanked members for their cooperation during her term of office.

Each member and guest brought a Christmas gift which will be given to residents at the County home.

The Christmas theme decorated the hall and tables for the occasion and Christmas trees fashioned of pine cones were presented to members and guests.

The next meeting was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. January 6 in the Parish Hall.

Civic Ballet Co. presents initial performance

The newly formed Bay-Waveland Civic Ballet Company presented its initial performance last Saturday at St. Joseph's Memorial gym in Bay St. Louis.

On the program were two diverse productions. The first, a classic ballet version of "Hansel and Gretel" was choreographed by Dorothy Vose of New York and Maria M. Lott of Bay St. Louis. The second was a modern ballet, "The Solemn Rite" also choreographed by Ms. Lott.

The Civic Ballet Co. was organized in July and received a state charter in August as a non-profit corporation.

As well as presenting programs throughout the year, the company will engage in ballet promotion activities, conduct studies and research. Primary aim of the company is to develop and upgrade the field of ballet on the Coast.

The company is composed of amateur ballet students studying with the several dancing schools in the Bay-Waveland area.

The company is available for performances to schools, clubs and civic organizations. For further information contact Mrs. W.E. LeBlanc, company secretary, 467-3757.

Mr. and Mrs. Rene Richard Bernond III announce the birth of their first child, a son, Rene Richard IV, November 6, at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. He weighed seven pounds, two ounces.

Mrs. Bernond is the former Karen Prosser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Prosser, Bay St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Bernond Jr., also of Bay St. Louis, are the paternal grandparents. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernond Sr. and Mrs. A. J. Moran of Bay St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prosser of Mt. Angel, Oregon.

Miss Udell Favre, Sister Margaret, Mrs. Juliette Cook and Mrs. A. K. Martinovich Sr. attended a Charismatic conference in Lafayette, La., over the weekend.

Thanksgiving holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scagnia and family were their son Kenneth and Mrs. Sharon Marcontell and son Robert of Houston, Texas.

Wingo-Matlin vows solemnized

St. Paul's Catholic Church in Pass Christian, Mississippi was the setting for the recent marriage of Miss Diane Bernadette Wingo, daughter of Mrs. Lee Russell Spence and the late Mr. Maurice Ross Wingo to Mr. Paul Matlin, Jr., son of Mrs. Milton Leeds of Brookfield Center, Connecticut and the late Dr. Paul Matlin. The Rev. John O'Brian officiated at the noon ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Lee Russell Spence, wore an original design by Priscilla of Boston and fashioned of peau de soie in Empire silhouette. The portrait neckline, accentuated with bias cut collar overlay of reembroidered lace, was edged with handcut daisies. The long slim sleeves ended with a wide band of matching lace complemented with small satin-covered bridal buttons. The chapel train was softly gathered into high waist at center back. The bride's cathedral-length veil was finished with wide scalloped hand cut lace appliques.

She wore a choker of seed pearls and pearl earrings, an heirloom in her mother's family. She carried a nosegay of bridal pink roses, English ivy and baby's breath.

Miss Camille Ann Wingo, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. The other bridal attendants were Miss Melanie Louise Wingo, sister of the bride, Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Cooper and Miss Eugenie Ebert, cousin of the groom. They wore pink long silk jersey shirtwaist gowns and opera length pearl necklaces and carried dainty nosegays of minuet roses and miniature carnations with English ivy.

Miss Wingo's youngest sister, Stella Sarah, served as flower girl, wearing a long pink dress and white eyelet pinon. Her nosegay was of pink sweetheart roses and miniature carnations. In her hair she wore ribbons and baby breath.

Mr. Laurence Doyle of Greensboro, North Carolina served the bridegroom as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers were James Byron Wingo and Maurice Ross Wingo, brothers of the bride, John Williams, Dominick del Carlo and Barnett Brimberg.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Spence entertained at a reception at 765 East Beach, Pass Christian. Mrs. Spence received her guests wearing a pale blue chiffon gown. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Leeds, mother of the bridegroom who wore a gown of pale green matte jersey.

For their wedding rip, the bride chose a pale blue sweater dress accented by a blue striped scarf. Her Corsage was a white cymbidium orchid.

The young couple will reside in New York where they will pursue further study.

A number of out-of-town guests attended the wedding from New York, Connecticut, Florida, Lafayette and New Orleans, Louisiana and Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Spence hosts at wedding reception

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Russell Spence entertained at their home in Pass Christian at a wedding reception immediately following the wedding of her daughter, Diane Bernadette Wingo to Paul Matlin, Jr. at high noon on Saturday. In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Spence were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Matlin, Jr., and the groom's mother, Mrs. Milton Leeds of Connecticut.

The receiving line was formed in the foyer of the home which was decorated with white mums interspersed with tall ferns at various intervals and in the reception rooms throughout the home.

In the dining room, which held similar arrangements of white and pink blooms, the buffet table was centered with a cutwork linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink sweetheart roses, baby breath and English ivy in keeping with the bridal theme of pink and white. Tall silver candelabra held white lighted tapers and at one end the silver punch bowl was surrounded by English ivy and pink roses and white camellias.

The wedding cake was laid on a round table covered with a matching cutwork cloth and Waveland Mayor John Longo, right, adds his congratulations to the many received by Mr. and Mrs. Ed LeVasseur who celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Saturday. A host of friends and relatives attended the Mass and reception following.

Our Lady of the Gulf School News

Our Lady of the Gulf students, who are presently participating in the Campbell Soup and Bean label collection drive to obtain a slide projector for their school announced they have collected more than half the number of labels required.

They want to thank all who are assisting them in the drive and ask that they continue to save the labels for O.L.G. and send them to the school, South Second Street.

The drive will end December 31.

Our Lady of the Gulf boys, grades fourth through sixth, have been busy practicing for the basketball season.

The boys, coached by Mike Ryan, will begin their conference basketball competition today at 6 p.m. in Our Lady's Academy gymnasium when they play Annunciation of Kilm.

Mrs. Kay Patterson and Billy Ivey from the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television, guest speakers at Our Lady of the Gulf P.T.O. meeting November 21, showed excerpts from some of the currently available educational programs and previews of programs to be available.

During the business session conducted by Ronald Artigues, P.T.O. president, minutes of the October meeting were presented by Mrs. John Rosetti, secretary and Mrs. Donald Corr, treasurer, gave a financial report on the recent Halloween penny party.

Mr. Artigues announced candidates for the 1975 carnival ball had been chosen and the annual kick-off party, for the ball activities will be held Saturday, December 7, in Our Lady's Academy gymnasium. He also asked for volunteer workers for this project.

Sixth grade science projects were displayed and judged. Winners were first place, Bryan Shoemaker for his fire alarm project; second place, Jeff Morel and Tad Ames, telephone, and third place Billy Monti, Ron Lusich and Bruce Cabell for their electric conductors.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by fifth grade room mothers, Mesdames John Rosetti, A. K. Martinovich Jr. and Willard Ladner.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Gerald Seuzeneau, the 50-50 by Mrs. Willard Ladner and the attendance prize went to the fourth grade.

The next meeting will be held in January 1975.

Quarterback Jeff Kergosien, Halfback Bruce Cabell, Linebacker Rodney Corr and linebacker Kendall

Lamb, members of Our Lady of the Gulf football team were selected to the Gulf Coast Western Conference All Star team.

Our Lady of the Gulf Bears are 1974 champions of the G.C.W.C.

New at Our Lady of the Gulf School this year are the energetic patrol boys. Before and after school they are busy at work in their new role.

SPAGHETTI DINNER
Woodmen of the World, Unit 507, will sponsor a spaghetti dinner and Christmas bazaar December 13 from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

Party plans discussed

Sodality of Our Lady of St. Clare's Parish, Waveland, met November 28 in Costello Hall with Mrs. Junius Boudreaux, prefect, conducting the business session.

Reports were given by Mrs. Roland Galivan, recording secretary; Mrs. John Galivan, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Adrien Chagnard, treasurer. Mrs. Chagnard gave the publicity report in the absence of Mrs. E. N. Canady, publicity chairman.

Mrs. David Markey, Christmas party food committee chairman, and Mrs. Otto May, decorating committee co-chairman, announced plans for the annual affair scheduled for Saturday, December 7, at 7 p.m. in Costello Hall were completed. Mrs. Maurice Shea, entertainment committee chairman and Mrs. William Faulkner gave their reports.

It was announced, because of Christmas holidays, there will be no meeting in December. The next meeting, with installation of officers for the coming year, will be held Tuesday, January 28, 1975.

Mrs. Frank Lotz hosted the social hour.

CORRECTION

Cathy Bosley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bosley of Pearlington, has been listed on the honor roll at Bay Junior High. Cathy is a ninth grade student.

To wake to a clear cold morning...to see a light frost across the golfing greens etched by trees wearing their fall colors of red, orange and brown...to your son wearing a bright red jacket tending the lawn and plants and watch the frost catch his breath...to hear the early morning call of the birds...and to watch your fat sleek cat scratching his way up the tall weaving pine...to know your dream of your favorite Christmas card has finally come true...you are living your Christmas card...all of this is God's work...and our paradise here in Diamondhead!

So many of us scattered for the holidays that I hear it was pretty quiet here. Ross Sorensen visited his brother at the ranch in Alabama; The Grace family was in Port Sulphur visiting and winding up affairs there in preparation for their move here to their most beautiful home built high into a hill; Lee Lewko took off for Mexico with relatives; the Tom Sheltens visited their daughter in Illinois, and we're glad to see all returned safely.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Grandel had her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beiers in for a festive dinner; Mr. and Mrs. K. Saucer had the whole family in from New Orleans, and the Club's Bob Kole informed me that most of the residents dined there Thanksgiving Day.

Betty Haas at the stables really has a gifted set of youngsters who set a great record for the month of November. For the walk and Trot Class in English riding were five place winners; First, Rachel Gex, then Rodney Bounds; Mary Scheungel, JoEllen Frisbee, and Denise Giles. In the second event, the Hack Class, First was Priscilla Snow, then Cassie Haas, Rachel Gex, R. Bounds, M. Scheungel. In the Pony Jumper Class, First Jump Off was Rodney Bounds, and then Denise Giles. In the Horse Jump Class, First Cassie Haas, then Mary Scheungel, and third was Priscilla Snow. Judge for the above events was Mrs. Richard Jackson of Slidell, La., and the ribbon girl was Peaches Bargar. These youngsters are really dedicated to their sport and their horses. Diamondhead has future plans to enlarge the stables for the demand is truly there.

Connie Maggio and several other Mothers have written to Santa Claus to invite him to a big Christmas Party for the children here...last year's event proved to be such a gala event and a "rerun" was immediately requested for this year.

We are all feeling the loss of a very active and very much loved resident here at Diamondhead, Max Lund. Max died unexpectedly Tuesday a week ago while performing civic duties at the Fire Volunteer Department at the Country Club. Along with his beautiful wife, Isabelle, Max and his group, under the direction of Fire Chief Ed Friloux, have worked tirelessly toward this project. We extend our deepest and most heartfelt sympathies to Isabelle and her family.

Bride feted with shower

Mrs. Robert Parker and Mrs. Greg Morreale hosted a miscellaneous bridal shower November 24 at the Parker home honoring Susan Marengo.

The honorees chosen colors, white and maroon, were used in the decorations. Miss Marengo and her mother Mrs. E. J. Marengo were presented corsages of white carnations interspersed with maroon ribbons.

Miss Marengo and Dennis Johnston were married Saturday, November 30, at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Teens organize for March of Dimes drive

Teen-agers in Mississippi are making plans for a variety of programs in support of the annual March of Dimes fund drive of The National Foundation in its continuing fight against the ravages of birth defects.

These programs will be coordinated by Miss Rene Crowe, a Senior in Kosciusko High School, Kosciusko, who has been named Teen Action Program chairman for the southern half of the state.

Miss Crowe, at age 16, is already a veteran in volunteer support of the March of Dimes, having sung for the past two years on the March of Dimes telethon on station WAGB in Greenwood.

She has also served on the Attala County TAP Committee for the past two years, assisting in Walkathons and Roadblocks in Attala County.

A member of the First United Methodist Church in Kosciusko, Miss Crowe is a member of its Youth Choir and has participated in church musicals there for the past three years.

In school, Miss Crowe has been named "class" favorite and home-room representative by her fellow students, and she has also served as a member of the staff of the

at the Natchez Trace Festival, at the Central Mississippi Fair, and before Rotary, Lions and other civic clubs.

"I'm happy to have the opportunity to serve as TAP chairman for south Mississippi," said Miss Crowe.

Betty Crocker program gets underway

The 21st Annual Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, a $111,000 college scholarship program sponsored by General Mills, is now underway.

High school seniors here and throughout the country will join in a written knowledge and attitude examination which will determine individual college scholarships awards of $500 to $5,000.

Participating seniors will compete in a 50-minute examination prepared and graded by Science Research Associates, Chicago, who are also responsible for all judging and selection of winners. The local winner will receive a specially designed award from General Mills and will, together with other school winners, remain in the running for state and national honors.

State winners - one from every state and the District of Columbia - will each be awarded a $1,500 scholarship. Chosen in judging that centers on performance in the written examination, state Family

Leaders of Tomorrow will also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second-ranking participants in each state will receive $500 college grants.

On April 20-25 of next year, the 51 state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will gather in Washington, D. C., for an expense-paid educational tour of the capital city and Williamsburg, Va. Personal observation and interviews of the state winners during the tour will be added factors in the selection of the 1975 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow and three runners-up. Scholarships awarded to the four national winners will be for $5,000, $1,000, $3,000 and $2,000. A $1,000 Nutrition Scholarship is also awarded to a student planning a college major in nutrition or a related field.

More than nine million students have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search since its beginning in the 1954-55 school year. With this year's grants, total scholarships awarded will exceed $2 million.

Schools in this area giving the tests are Bay Senior High School, Coast Episcopal High and Our Lady's Academy.

Senior Citizens Happenings

Don Mauffray
Recreation Director

What a dinner! What a party! and most of all, what good service and entertainment!

So it was for the Senior Citizens Thanksgiving Dinner party Nov. 25. Brother Pierre, Brother Albert and the St. Stanislaus Choral group not only entertained us with old favorites of by-gone days, but the boys also did a marvelous job of serving the delicious meal and refreshments.

The Miss. Valley Foods Catering Service, who prepares our daily lunches for congregating here at the V.C.J. Center, prepared the dinner. Also on hand to help with the entertaining was Betty Carroll. Fred and Ginger Horn of Waveland did a splendid job of decorating our dining room for the occasion. Ginger's hand-crocheted cornucopias adorned the tables which were covered with Thanksgiving table cloths. Approximately 175 Senior Citizens, staff and volunteers were in attendance.

On Tuesday, Nov. 26 we were entertained by Billy Burrows at the keyboard for our congregating feeding. He too, played some beautiful old favorites. Also Piccola's School of Dancing entertained us on that day. We always enjoy having them.

The Senior Citizens of Pearlington did it again also with a big spread of delicious homemade cooking for their Thanksgiving dinner Nov. 13. "Pip" Johnson and his band were on hand to entertain us and live the place up with their swingin' music. As usual, everyone had a ball - all 63 of us.

Irma Cuevas, the Community Services aide for Pearlington, now has a phone in the Community Center there. The number is 533-5597. Her hours at the Center are Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 8:30 to 12:30 and 1 to 5 p.m. Any Senior Citizens in that area needing information, referrals, or services are asked to please call her on these days at the Center.

The Senior Citizens of Kiln had their gala affair for Thanksgiving Nov. 21 at the Kiln Memorial Post No. 6285 of the V. F. W. There, also, the turkey and dressings with all of the trimmings were out of this world. It was the largest gathering we've ever had for our monthly parties with 101 on hand. Thanks to our wonderful volunteers, Doris Glass and members of the F. F. W., the tables were decorated beautifully. To top off a wonderful day, Betty Carroll was there to play the piano for us again.

The members of Kiln Memorial Post No. 6285 of the V. F. W. voted unanimously at a special meeting to sponsor a Christmas dinner for the Senior Citizens at their Post Dec. 19. Their generosity is appreciated more than words can say.

Also on Dec. 15 at Annunciation Catholic Church of Kiln is sponsoring a Chinese dinner for the Senior Citizens of the area. Anyone wishing to attend must make reservations in advance.

You may call me at 467-9291 or the Fathers at Kiln 255-1800. There will also be attendance sheets for those attending Masses next weekend to sign as they leave the Mass. I want to thank the Fathers, and anyone else responsible for this kind gesture. I'm sure the Senior Citizens of that area are looking forward to this treat.

Our benefit games have been called off for December only, as our Recreation at V.C.J. Center on Dec. 9. Our next activity at Bay-Waveland V.C.J. Center will be a Christmas Party Dec. 16.

Echoes

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Wyatt Sr. had as Thanksgiving Day guests her brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Martin Welker and son Joel and her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wiegand and children Roy and Ann, all of New Orleans.

GARDEN OF THE MONTH chosen by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club is at the Bay St. Louis home of Mr. and Mrs. Rene deMontfuzin, 113 deMontfuzin St.

Art students:

Use talent to aid handicapped

Charles B. Ryan, chairman of the Mississippi Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, is urging the state's high school and college art students to use their talents to help the handicapped by entering the 1975 Poster Contest co-sponsored by the President's and Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

The theme of the 1975 poster contest is "Handicapped People: A National Resource." To enter, the student prepares a painting, drawing, photograph, collage, or any two-dimensional medium or combination of media, in color or black and white, which communicates the theme.

Designs should be prepared on 14" x 18" sheets of illustration board and sent to the Mississippi Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, P. O. Box 1698, Jackson, MS 39205, by January 25, 1975.

Each of the category winners will be honored along with winners in the Ability Counts contest at a special awards program in Jackson on March 6, 1975. They will receive a free trip to Jackson for the awards program, which will include a luncheon honoring winners, presentation of certificates from the Governor's Committee and the State Department of Education, and other awards. Cash scholarships of $1,000 will be awarded the national winners in the two categories by the American Veterans of World War II, Korea and Vietnam (AMVETS).

National winners also receive a trip to Washington, D. C. to attend the Annual Meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, and the two winning posters are used in the President Committee's national publicity campaign.

Mississippi's winners last year were Robert Forsbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Forsbach, student at Callaway High School in Jackson, and Carol Hodo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hodo, student at Mississippi College was the college winner.

Mardi Gras day parade open to public participation

The Merry-makers Social and Pleasure Club of Bay St. Louis, has issued an invitation to other clubs and organizations as well as individuals to participate in the Club's Mardi Gras day parade this year.

As in the last three years, the Merry-makers' parade will be staged Carnival day, Feb. 11, with a route to wind through the Bay, beginning and ending at the Old Spanish Trail-Sycamore St. area.

Theme of the parade this year is "Masquerade of Foreign Lands", and club president Mrs. Catherine Ishem advises that she should be notified as soon as possible by participants of whichever country they have chosen to avoid duplication. Floats, marching groups, bands and musical ensembles, school drill teams, mounted riders and individual marchers are all welcome to join the parade, a club spokesman said.

December 16 is the deadline to officially register for participation in the parade. For further information or registration, contact Mrs. Ishem at 467-7215, or 340 Labat St., Bay St. Louis, 39520.

AYH offers world wide adventure

Let AYH open the door to a new and exciting experience, a fresh approach to one of the oldest means of pleasure TRAVEL.

Backpacking in Switzerland, Austria, and the Canadian Rockies, pony trekking in Spain, bicycling in New England, the Hawaiian Islands, Nova Scotia and throughout Europe are among the 120 trips being offered this summer by the American Youth Hostels.

Trips in the United States are open to anyone 14 or older, while those in other countries are open to anyone 18 or older. Each group of 7-9 trippers travels with a trained, adult leader.

From the mouths of babes: holiday recipes not like Mother used to make!

The following holiday fare recipes, although submitted for Thanksgiving are just as applicable for the coming Yule season and, by content, are a delight to read any time of the year.

The Echo is indebted to Connie Heltzmann, kindergarten teacher at Our Lady of the Gulf School in Bay St. Louis, who compiled the recipes, verbatim, and sent them in.

Readers will agree - they are a departure from the humdrum!

APPLE PIE - Destin Brady
First you buy 20 apples and put 5 cups of sugar in a bowl and mix it up with a spoon. She puts it in the oven and cooks it at 40 degrees for 10 min. take it out the oven and cuts it and she puts it in a plate and we eat it.

TURKEY - Leslie Gleber
Go to Winn Dixie and buy a 10 lb. turkey. Come home and put it in a pan add 4 cups of ketchup and 4 cups of water. Put it in the oven at 10 degrees for 6 min. then takes it out of the oven and eats it.

CHICKEN - Joey Boudin

TURKEY - Omar Boyd
Go to Food Center and buy a 80 lb. turkey.

Add bread (1 loaf) in the inside and sew it up and she fries the chicken and puts it inside the turkey. (You have to shoot the turkey with a gun) Then she fries it and we eat it all.

TURKEY - Michelle Strong
Go to the store and buy a 1 lb. turkey. Cook for 10 min. at 100 degrees. Look at your clock (if you have one). Take the turkey out and your daddy cuts it in half. Then she pours 1/2 glass milk in your glass. Then I call my brother at James Edwards house to eat Thanksgiving Dinner.

TURKEY - Buffy Englert
Go to Food Center and buy a 15 lb. turkey. Then she comes home and puts it in the oven at 15 degrees for 40 hours. Then she cooks it a little bit more. Then she takes it out the oven and everybody eats it.

TURKEY - Sonya Edmondson
Go to Winn Dixie and buy a 9 lb. turkey. When she gets home she unwraps it and bakes it at 5 degrees for 8 min. Then she puts 1 cup of turkey juice in the inside of the turkey and puts a strawberry and a pineapple on top. She takes it out and puts it on the table in the living room and we eat it.

SPAGHETTI - Christine Crawford
Buy 1 box of spaghetti then take it home. Unwrap the spaghetti and put it in the oven at 5 degrees for 18 min. Then you add a little water and eat it with corn.

TURKEY - Teddo Thomas
Go to the turkey store and buy a 300 lb. turkey. Then she brings it home and puts it in a bowl. Then she cooks it in the stove (and it must be 500 degrees) for 407 min. Then she eats it.

TURKEY - Dee Dee Strong
Go to Jitney and buy a 80 lb. turkey. Cook it in the oven at 500 degrees. Then listen for the bell. It's finished about 100 minutes. When the bell rings her takes it out and puts it on the table for Daddy to cut it up.

PUMPKIN PIE - Andrea Ambrose
Go buy a pumpkin at Winn Dixie - 50 lbs. She cuts it and puts salt in it. Then she puts crust on it in a pan. Put it in a oven 10 degrees for 5 min. and takes it out and its finished.

TURKEY - Bill Poolson

Reflections

National secretary visits Christ Schools

After four years of scheduling and rescheduling visits, the Reverend John Paul Carter, Executive Secretary of the National Association of Episcopal Schools, visited Christ Episcopal Day School and Coast Episcopal High School for four days last week.

Out of the nation's 1,000 Episcopal schools, Father Carter visits 100 each year. His purpose is to study briefly every aspect of the school system, write a report, and make recommendations to the school officials.

While on the Coast, Father Carter attended a school play, rode on the Ocean Springs bus run, sat in on various classes, spoke at a joint CEHS/CHS parents' meeting on Monday night, and attended a meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Student teachers go in the field

More than 100 students at the University of Southern Mississippi, most of them seniors, will be going to school off campus during the winter quarter.

They are the education majors planning to teach when they finish their undergraduate education. Working in classrooms of schools in and out of the state, they acquire a first-hand knowledge of their chosen profession, under the eye of experienced public school administrators.

As announced by the Office of Student Teaching, USM neophytes include, from Bay St. Louis: Charles A. Matherne teaching at St. Stanislaus; Sharon A. McKenna teaching in Biloxi; Allan P. Kraft, Canton, teaching at St. Stanislaus; Kilm - Sister John C. Langford, MSMT, teaching in Kilm.

Rebs suffer early setbacks

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — After two tough road setbacks to start the season, Ole Miss opened its home basketball season Wednesday night against the University of Wisconsin at Green Bay.

Tipoff time is 7:30 p.m. in the C.M. "Tad" Smith Coliseum. There will be a 5:15 preliminary game between the Ole Miss and Blue Mountain girls teams.

Participating in the IPTAY Classic in Clemson, S.C. over the weekend, the Rebels suffered back-to-back decisions to Clemson, 93-80 and Middle Tennessee State, 79-68.

The Rebs' aggressive man-to-man defensive tactics held Clemson in check through the first half, the home-standing Tigers holding a 41-38 intermission advantage.

But after the Johnny Rebs closed to within one early in the second stanza, 7-1 Tree Rollins, who finished with 27 points and 17 rebounds, sparked a Clemson rally to sour Ole Miss hopes. Still, with five minutes remaining the Rebs were down by just seven.

Against Ohio Valley title contender Middle Tennessee State on Saturday evening, the Rebs saw an early 17-12 lead dissipate in a matter of moments and trailed 48-38 at the half.

Creeping closer after the first 10 minutes of the second period, Ole Miss rallied to within two, 62-60 with 9:13 to play. But MTSU proceeded to run off seven unanswered points, the Rebels canning only one field goal thereafter.

"I thought we gave good efforts in both games, especially against a talented (Clemson team)," Rebel coach Robert "Cob" Jarvis. "If we continue to get that type play, I believe we may surprise some teams."

Jarvis has only four lettermen back from his 1974 team. However, forward Harvey Murray, 6-5 junior college transfer, leads in scoring thus far with a 14.0 average. Murray had 11 points against Clemson and 17 against Middle Tennessee.

Senior guard Dave Shepherd was next at 13.5 followed by senior guard Bob Mahoney and junior forward Herb Wright, each at 11.5 and senior forward Matt Meibers at 11.0.

St. Paul Rebels win Oyster Bowl

St. Paul's Rebels were victorious in the 3rd Annual Oyster Bowl game by 12-0 over the St. Thomas "Tigers" of Long Beach.

Half time activities saw the introduction of the court and crowning of the Queen, Miss Judy Necaise by Pass Christian Mayor Steve Saucier.

Crown bearer was "Little Rebel" Jack Simpson; flower girl Krissy Wittmann presented a bouquet of white mums tied in red, white & blue school colors to the Queen.

Principal of St. Paul's, Miss Adele Bietenberg, presented engraved charms to the Queen and her court from a silver tray held by cheerleader mascot, Kimberly Wittmann. Following the game, trophies were presented by Coach Barry Jones of St. Stanislaus and Coach Bill Stevens of Pass Christian High School.

Most outstanding offensive player was Sean Logan and Most Outstanding Defensive player was Brian Searborough.

Game was announced by Jake Erwin and officiated by Pascagoula River Conference officials.

St. Paul's Rebels closed out a winning season by defeating Annunciation Wildcats in their annual Turkey Bowl, Nov. 24. It was St. Paul's second Bowl win in as many days.

Prior to the game, which began at 2 p.m., the Rebel coaches and team were treated to a dinner at Annunciation.

The Rebels are coached by Henry Logan, Ken Wittmann, Otis Gates and Fred Searborough.

Oyster royalty

First grade maid Cynthia Willett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrod Willett Jr. of Pass Christian, is flanked by escorts Philip Wittmann, left, and Mark Logan during presentation Nov. 23 of the Oyster Bowl Queen and her court. The St. Paul Rebels defeated the St. Thomas Tigers of Long Beach 12-0 for the Oyster Bowl title.

Burger King All-Stars

Among the 22 Mississippi Gulf Coast players named to the Burger King All-Star team last week were Bay High players Arnold Fairconnetue (left) and Mike Magee. The 24 players chosen by a panel of coaches and sportswriters were selected from the Pascagoula River, Gulf Coast and Big Eight Conferences. Magee directed the Tiger signal calling this year while Fairconnetue played defensive back. Both were also named last week to the 1974 Gulf Coast All Conference team. Both are seniors.

Turnovers spell Tulane upset

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — The most important statistic produced in Ole Miss' 26-10 victory over Tulane last Saturday in New Orleans was spelled "turnover."

The keynotes were fumbles, the four dropped and lost by the Green Wave.

But not to be overlooked were five pass interceptions, three in the hands of swift free safety Gary Hall. The senior from Memphis thereby joined select company, five other Rebs who have handled that many in a single game.

The upset decision did a lot for the Rebs. First and foremost, it ended the longest string in Ole Miss football history, a total of seven consecutive defeats.

Also, it will serve as a springboard for 1975 spring training.

Although over 50,000 tickets had been peddled for the game last September -- and it was scheduled as an opener on the 7th -- there were at least 30,000 "no shows." For only 21,628 hardy fans braved the icy weather to watch the Hurricane Carmen-delayed headliner in giant Tulane Sugar Bowl Stadium.

The Rebel victory was highlighted by the fifth-longest pass play in Ole Miss grid history, a 77-yard pass-and-run production spun by freshman quarterback Tim Ellis and tailback James Reed. It handed the Rebs a 7-0 lead they were never to

Jaycees fete athletes

The Kiln Jaycees will honor members of the Kiln Little League teams who participated in the Harrison-Hancock Athletic Association during the 1974 season Friday night at their first annual athletic awards banquet to be held at Annunciation School. The banquet will begin at 7 p.m. followed by the awards presentation at 8:30 p.m.

Featured speaker will be Hancock North Central head coach Irvin Favre who also coached the Gulfport American Legion baseball team.

The Kiln Jaycees sponsored one team, organized, managed and coached two other baseball teams in the program while reorganizing the local Jaycee chapter formerly known as the North Hancock County Jaycees.

RECEIVE TRAINING According to the U.S. Department of Labor, in fiscal year 1973 nearly 335,000 apprentices received training and more than 50,000 completed their apprenticeships in registered programs during the year.

Streak broken Hancock bows to Stone 86-75

by Dan Barber
The Hancock North Central Hawks and Coach Roland Ladner saw a five game winning streak abruptly snapped Tuesday night by the hot hands of Luther Monroe and Peter Saia as the Hawks bowed to Stone County 86-75 in Wiggins.

Stone, which had five players in double figures, was paced by Monroe with 23 points and Saia with 20, in a rock and roll battle that saw each team swap leads until the final quarter.

The nip and tuck game was evident by the 20-18 first period score in favor of Stone and the 42-41 advantage of Hancock North Central at the half. At the end of the third period the two clubs were tied at 59-59.

Stone began to open its lead in the fourth period on a series of free throws and with three Hancock players in foul trouble.

Before the fourth period had ended the Hawks had lost forwards Benny Ladner, Guy Necaise and guard Bobby Seals on fouls.

The Hawks couldn't come any closer than six points to Stone in the fourth period. The loss drops the Hawks record to 5-1 for the early season.

Leading scorer for the Hawks was 6-3 forward-guard Jack Lewis with 17 points followed by 6-6 guard Kim Ladner and 6-2 forward-center Guy Necaise with 14 each and 6-2 Benny Ladner with 13.

The Hawks hit 30 of 54 field goals and 15 of 22 free throws.

The Hawks next play St. John, Gulfport, away on Dec. 11 before turning their attention to the Lumberton Tournament Dec. 12-14.

Salt and fresh water lines are set

Notice is hereby given that the State Game and Fish Commission at a regular meeting held October 8 in Jackson, Mississippi, passed the following amendment to Public Notice No. 1551 establishing a jurisdictional boundary line between salt and fresh waters in accordance with Section 49-15-23, Mississippi Code of 1972, enacted at the 1971 regular session, to wit:

BE IT ORDERED THAT Exception No. 4, as written in Public Notice No. 1551, dated 23rd day of September 1971, is hereby repealed.

BE IT FURTHER ORDERED THAT Exception No. 4 shall now read as follows:

The jurisdictional boundary line for certain waters south of U.S. Highway 90 and west of St. Louis Bay shall be and is fixed as follows:

All waters south of the L and N Railroad in Hancock County, Mississippi, are hereby declared to be salt water and all waters north of said L and N Railroad are hereby declared to be fresh waters.

By order of Avery Wood, state director of conservation.

Tigers snuff Ocean Springs

by Dan Barber
Echo Sports Editor

The Bay High Tigers, led by returning starter Allison Farve with 21 points, held off a late charge from the Ocean Springs Greyhounds Tuesday night to record their fourth win of the season 84-78.

While in the girls' opener, the Bay High Tigerettes won their fourth game of the season with a 57-33 victory over Pascagoula.

Farve, who played his first full game Tuesday since suffering a broken ankle pained the Tiger attack with 10 points in the first half and 11 in the second half before fouling out in the fourth period.

Also in double figures for the Tigers was Arnold Fairconnetue with 14 points, Tom Barrett and Mike Fricke with 11 points each, and Clarence Hargett with 10 points. The Tigers also received five points from Bill Ginn, eight from Donald Lott and four from Adrian Farve.

The young Tiger squad never trailed the Greyhounds even though Bay High only managed a slim three point lead to end the first half 41-38.

Losing coach Jack Hughes credited the Tiger victory to too many turnovers by the Greyhounds and a slack defense.

"They just got too many layups on us in the first half," Hughes said following the game.

Asked what he thought of Farve's play, Hughes said he thought just the fact of Farve's presence on the court had given the Tigers a spark.

"I was very pleased with Allison's play," Tiger coach Mike Necaise added. "I think 21 points is a pretty good performance for his first full game."

The Tigers, whose lead was never greater than six to seven points over the Greyhounds, nevertheless played a steady game, even after four of the Tiger starters got into late foul trouble. The Tigers hit 24 of 38 field goal attempts for a 63 percent shooting average.

Bay High floor leader Arnold Fairconnetue, who fouled out with 5:40 to play in the fourth period, was ably replaced by guard Mike Fricke before Fricke also fouled out late in the game. Other players in foul trouble were forward Tom Barrett who left the game in the third period and Allison Farve.

The Tigers, whose record advanced to 4-1, will play Gulfport East tonight in the Pass Christian Tournament should the Tigers defeat Long Beach in the first round game.

"We have a young and aggressive team of players," Necaise said, "and we hope the fans will continue to come out and watch us."

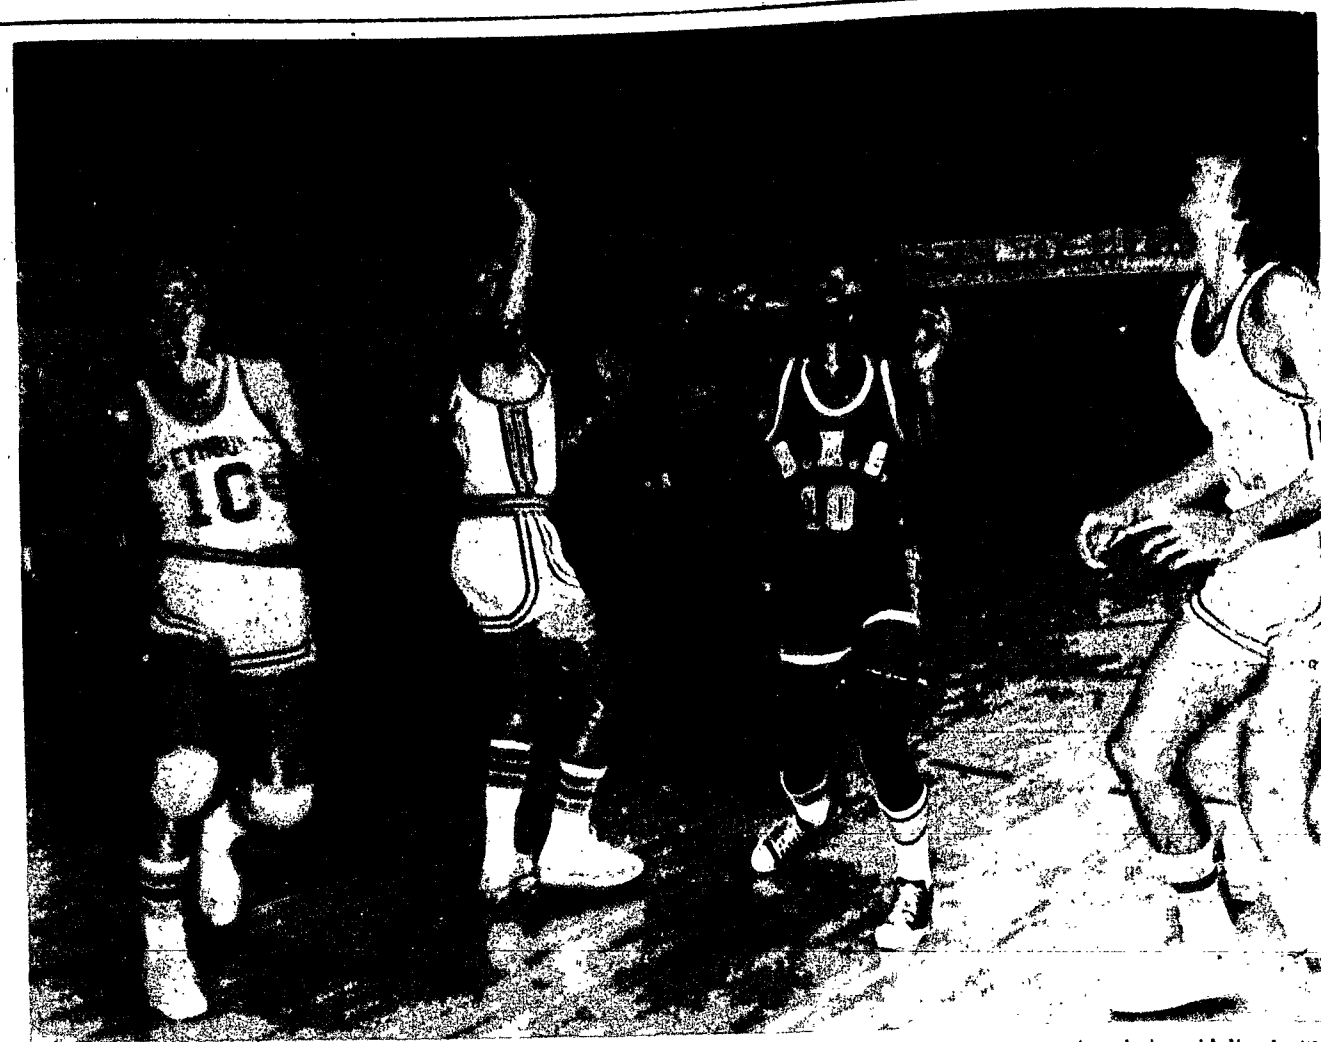

The Tigerettes stretched an 18-9 first period lead into a 28-17 lead at the half before really pouring it on in the third and fourth periods.

Sandra Lyons paced the Tigerettes under coach Willie Bradley, with 15 points followed by Perry Whavers and Prima Luke with 12 each. Connie Payne added six, Linda Overall had four, and Cindy Stieffel, Monica Price, Margie Richardson and Christy Thomas had two each.

Cidy Criddle was the only Pascagoula player in double figures with 14 points.

Bay High's Arnold Fairconnetue drives for the basket in the third quarter of the Tigers 84-78 victory Tuesday night over the Ocean Springs Greyhounds.

Where is it? might be the question as returning starter Allison Farve (10) and these Greyhound players wait for the ball to clear the backboard. Farve led the Tigers in scoring with 21 points after seeing his first full game since being sidelined with an ankle injury.

A&I Board sponsors in-state travel show

The Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board has announced that it will sponsor an in-state travel show March 7-9, 1975, in conjunction with Mississippi's five Area Tourist Councils.

The show will be held at the state's new 43,000 square foot Trade Mart building in Jackson and will feature exhibits by private and publicly owned travel attractions, government agencies, Chambers of Commerce and the Area Tourist Councils. Entertainment for the three-day event will highlight Mississippi talent during five shows daily. There will be no admission charge.

H. A. (Beau) Whittington, Trade Mart manager for the A & I Board, is handling the preparations for the show which will be the first of its kind for Mississippi. "Exhibit space is limited," Whittington stated, "and will be assigned on a first-come basis."

"This show will provide an opportunity to increase the awareness of our state's attractions and events, and encourage attendance to them by Mississippians and other travelers," according to Whittington. "We hope that it will inform outside interest groups such as travel writers and tour brokers about the attractions available to vacationers in Mississippi. It will also serve as a catalyst in bringing Mississippi travelers and tourist-oriented groups together for the purpose of promoting Mississippi." Dot Lambert, manager of the A & I Board's Travel and Tourism Department joined Whittington in expressing enthusiasm about the show.

Monica Price drives for the layup around two defenders Tuesday as the Tigerettes easily won their fourth straight game of the season over Pascagoula 57-33.

Tiger guard Mike Fricke pumps in a jumper as no. 34 Bill Ginn sets a pic in the Tigers game with Ocean Springs Tuesday. Fricke had 11 points for the Tigers in their 84-78 victory.

Easy as one, two, three. Or go it seems here as Arnold Fairconnette waltzes in for the easy layup after a stolen pass Tuesday night.

Yacht Club celebrates 25th birthday

The Bay Waveland Yacht Club will celebrate its 25th anniversary this weekend with a gala dinner dance Saturday night.

The first yacht club serving Bay Waveland sailors was established at the foot of Washington Street in the Bay—an imposing piered structure with traditional galleries circling the club and a large central ballroom within. The ravages of time and tropical storms reputedly destroyed the old club in 1909 and the two cities did without until 1949, when the present club was reorganized.

The 1947 hurricane swept away the old oyster factory on the spit of land where the present club is located and the land acquired by the board.

Formal opening festivities coincided with New Year's Eve with the dinner dance on December 31, 1949. It is interesting to note in looking over old records and invitations that cost per person for the dinner, live orchestra and floor show was $3.50.

First commodore of the new club was John Bell, who had spearheaded the reorganization and worked to acquire the land and club building. According to the contractor's specs for the new building, to be built on "the oyster shell pile" was $20,000 to be completed in 20 weeks.

Past commodores of the club will be honored at Saturday's festivities as well as the club's top sailors.

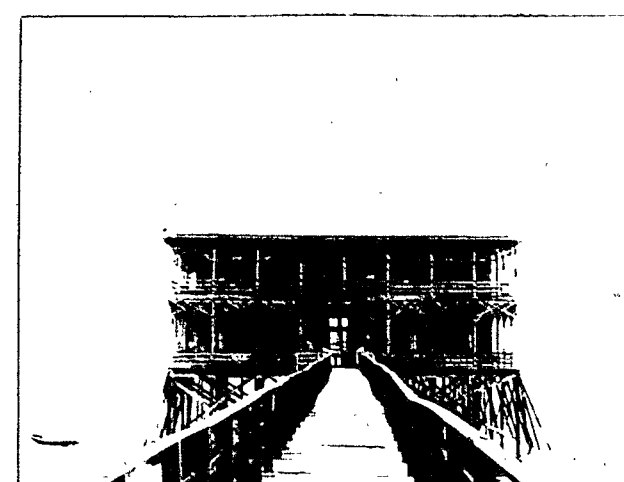

ALBERT ISHEM... has been with BWYC since it opened in 1949 at the present location.

RUDY LABAT... serves the Rene deMontluzins in the club dining room as he has for the past 23 years.

BAY-WAVELAND YACHT CLUB as it looked 25 years ago after construction was completed on the new clubhouse. The organization celebrates a 25th anniversary Saturday with gala festivities.

The above is a picture of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club which was displayed in an illustrated edition of the SEA COAST ECHO, on September 5, 1953.

The officers of the Club at that time were J. A. Rawlins, commodore; L. H. Fairchild, vice-commodore; J. B. Dunbar, rear-commodore; E. E. O'Brien, Secretary; Richard Mendez, treasurer; W. J. Chapman, fleet captain and Dr. R. J. Turner, fleet surgeon.

The regatta committee was composed of E. L. Phac, W. W. Boulmet, and E. J. O'Brien.

The official measurer was Gilbert Marshall.

Santa's House opens tomorrow

According to Mrs. John R. Rosetti, chairman of "Santa's House", Santa will be in town at the Webb Community Center, Third Street, Bay St. Louis, Friday from 2 to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This unusual bazaar, being held by the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary to raise funds for service projects, has been planned with economy as the overriding theme.

Among unique features of this penny-wise sale-a-thon will be a special Children's Gift Store for the younger set where inexpensive gifts for family and friends can be purchased, wrapped and ready for giving.

Every mother wants a photograph of her child with Santa. Jolly ole Santa will be on hand with a photographer Friday from 2 to 5:30 p.m. Although Santa will be available to see everyone Saturday his photographer helper can not make the day.

It has been said one's junk is often another's treasure, or perhaps that perfect gift, therefore a White Elephant Booth as well as a Used Toy Store will offer an assortment of good second-hand items very nicely priced. And there will be the usual Gift Shop well stocked with handcrafted items made by club members; a Trim-a-Tree Shop with a treasury of decorations; plus a Garden Shop with nature's own gifts.

The Webb Community Center is the place to be tomorrow from 2 to 5:30 p.m. and Saturday, December 7th, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Come help us have a merry Christmas bazaar in order that we can help those in need within our community have a "happy new year" this year.

It's the real thing!

CRAS sponsors meet at Stennis

Robert Fortmuller of the Coast Aeronautical Society of Biloxi announced a three-city radio model meet at Stennis International Airport December 8, from 1-3 p.m.

The Magnolia Flyers from Hattiesburg will be traveling to Bay St. Louis to participate in the three-city meet. Representing Ocean Springs will be the Line and Radio Control Society who will bring their line and radio control models to compete against the Magnolia Flyers and the CRAS group from Biloxi.

Fortmuller said that there will be 17 flying models and 20 static display models on the ground. Among the flying models will be Snoopy's Doghouse. Also, there will be five Saturn-5 rockets which will be fired and parachuted down.

E. Durand... Bailey, operations manager of Stennis airport, has turned over the entire ramp area in front of the hangar and administration building to the model flying.

All events will be announced by a public address system.

The public is cordially invited to the free event sponsored by the CRAS group from Biloxi.

KANTCHA KETCHUM
By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Another cold front invaded this section over the weekend. It was real cold but warmed up after a little rainy spell. Fishing wasn't too bad with fish being caught in deep holes.

Speckles were gotten on live shrimp and artificial baits, while bass were hitting under-water baits and live shrimp, also red fish and croakers.

Believe it or not, crabs were caught in most bays and out front in nets and traps. Saw some nice soft crabs that were caught in traps and by those trolling for shrimp. Due to the weather there was a scarcity of shrimp. Most fishing camps didn't have any live ones.

Red fish are still being caught in Bayou Caddy and other places such as Heron Bay, etc.

Hunting continues good, especially for squirrels, rabbits and even deer. With colder weather doves should be best during the third segment of the season which will be coming up.

Unusual things still happen. Mark Uram, an employee of W. A. McDonald and Sons, sank three chip shots from off the green while playing golf in 18 holes. This must have been a record. He was playing with some local golfers.

Russell Elliott made a ten day hunting trip to Texas with a group of hunters. They were members of the Gulfport rodeo outfit. We are enjoying some venison which was bagged by Russell, plus some other game.

Marshall Wilcox and Norvin Penrose, Jr. are both local fishermen who go for salt water and fly fishing. Both take behind their dad's when it comes to catching them.

Charles LaFontaine's main hobby is hunting rabbits. Charles has a couple of top beagles and with his son, Charles, Jr. get their share of the bushy tails.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark are bank fishermen and claim they don't need a boat to catch speckles, flounders, crabs or anything that bites. They go on every occasion.

Rev. and Mrs. Christian Kocker, of Beyner Memorial United Methodist Church, Winter Haven, Fla. visited Rev. and Mrs. Walter Porter, and family in Bay St. Louis. The Kocker and Porter families entertained the Senior Citizens group last Tuesday with a musical program during the lunch hour. Mrs. Kocker played the piano, while the children played the auto harp, clarion and drums. Rev. Kocker is a champion swimmer, in all styles.

The St. Stanislaus Sidelines Club staged its Thanksgiving Social Saturday night with a good crowd in attendance. Those handling the affair did a swell job.

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission called to the attention of hunters opening of the 1974-75 bobwhite quail season in Louisiana, Thanksgiving day.

J. Burton Angelle, commission director, said that reports from biologists in the Game Division indicated that nesting efforts in the spring had been better than average and that, consequently, quail hunters could anticipate a better season than last year.

He said that the season which will extend through February 28 called for a daily bag of 10, with a possession limit of 20.

Angelle urged all quail hunters to thoroughly check the Digest of Hunting and Fishing Regulations for details pertaining to quail hunting on the commission's wildlife management areas.

According to post-season surveys conducted by the commission there are approximately 35,000 quail hunters in Louisiana and last year the bag was in excess of a half-million birds, a figure that is expected to be exceeded this season.

Ree Elliott of Gulfport runs two picture shows, the Olde Tyme Ice Cream Parlor and Elliott's Arts-N-Crafts, a hobby store. When not too busy he tries to do a little fishing. Of course, Debby helps him.

What the fishermen are saying: Eddie Blaize says there is no water in the lake now-a-days. Ferdinand Ramond: Caught four wash tub flounders.

Judge Homes: Gone back to Illinois to bring us some pheasants.

Sam Benigno: When it's cold and freezing that's when he is going fishing.

Jake Evans: Not doing any fishing, but gonna start.

Bill Johnston: Gonna fish one day in the Ross Barnett Reservoir.

Clayton Seely: can't stay still long enough to fish. I go deer hunting.

Ray Garner: I'll fry all we catch on my belly.

Yours truly: when it comes to fishing I'm weak, but willing.

Capt. H. P. Capdepon has just retired from the Marine Corps this year. Will reside in Gulfport where he can visit his parents more often. Will do a little fishing as a hobby. He visited Mrs. Lawrence (Todi) Jacobi who has returned from the hospital.

Ronnie Dillstone of Peca Park, Long Beach, is one of our most enthusiastic deer hunters. He has been going for 10 years. Has been going to the woods and is still looking forward to the day of the kill.

Ronnie is a big fisherman, a golfer and tennis player, and all-around sport and athlete. If you don't believe it, just ask his wife.

Harold Morais was a good pool player. He fishes, catches crabs, etc. He is now retired. Promised to come over and do some fishing. Carry out the threat, partner.

The season on quail hunting opened on Thanksgiving day and last until Feb. 28. The bag limit is 12 and possession 24, respectively. Ever hunt with bird dogs? They are as enthusiastic as their owners.

Wop Glover, a quail bird dog raiser and trainer said, it is a thrill to see the dogs work whether you shoot or not.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK - Luke Elliott, Jr., better known as Chipper, is one of our better fly fishermen and casters. Chip fishes hard and listens to advice. He now lives in Lafayette, La. but fishes here on every occasion.

Timely Toy Is Easy To Make

The next time you find some time on your hands, you might take some to create a little dollar scholar doll that's not only timely when it's time to save some money, but can also help you teach your youngsters to be clock-wise and penny wise.

This little bankette is easy to make with your own two hands and a few household items. Start with the empty plastic jug from Dynamo, the money-saving liquid detergent. Put a head on it by gluing a styrofoam ball onto a cork and sticking it in the neck. Next, add a pair of button eyes with draper's pins, and draw on a sweet smile with a felt-tip pen. As for his hair, a hank of wool will do. A small ribbon can make its bow as his bow tie, while on his belly he bears a clock face and hands cut from card-board and fastened with a paper brad.

A small slit over the clock will help you put money in the bank, and that's something you can bank on around the clock!

Benigno: When it's cold and freezing that's when he is going fishing.

Jake Evans: Not doing any fishing, but gonna start.

Bill Johnston: Gonna fish one day in the Ross Barnett Reservoir.

Clayton Seely: can't stay still long enough to fish. I go deer hunting.

Ray Garner: I'll fry all we catch on my belly.

County Agent's Notes

John W. Smith, County Agent

CUTTING DAIRY COSTS

Although the farmers' selling price for 100 pounds of milk is holding steady, the costs of feed and other expenses continue to rise. During this economic situation, reducing feed cost per 100 pounds of milk produced is one of the most important moves a dairyman can make.

If you cut the amount of feed you feed cows, milk production drops. The best approach is to feed more of the cheaper feeds that still provide the correct amount of nutrients.

A little pencil pushing shows that a pound of nutrient from grain sorghum silage costs about two to three cents, from temporary grazing four to six cents, aboutive cents from quality hay and 10 cents from the grain or concentrate mixture.

From this you can see that the cost of milk-making nutrients is much cheaper from forage than from concentrates.

Forage alone will produce only about 60 to 70 percent of the milk the cow is capable of producing. So use some grain to balance the ration and produce milk economically. But the higher the quality of forage the more the cow will eat of it, reducing the amount of high priced grain needed to produce the same amount of milk.

To know the quality of forages that you are feeding, utilize the forage testing service offered by Mississippi State University.

STRAWBERRY PLANTING
From now until February is strawberry planting time.

After getting your plants, do not let the roots dry out. If you cannot plant them immediately, cover the roots with moist sawdust or sand until you can plant them.

When planting, cover the roots completely but be careful not to cover the crowns of the plants. Before spring growth, mulch the plants with about 4 inches of pine straw or similar material. Check the county agent office for a list of recommended varieties.

HANDLING SOYBEAN SEED

For safe storage of soybean planting seed, reduce the moisture content and keep it down. Do not store seed beans with a moisture content above 13 percent.

Aerate the beans periodically to prevent moisture migration and build up in certain areas of the storage bin. Only aerate on cool, dry days.

LAND HANDLING
After subsoiling, keep machinery off fields. A tractor wheel traveling within one foot of the subsoiled area can compact light textured soil again. For this reason, heavy equipment should not travel these fields when they are wet. The best rule is to always make subsoiling the last trip over the field in the fall.

Cool cutting

Posing for ribbon cutting photos in freezing temperatures Monday morning was no problem for Snoopy who sensibly wore his best fur coat for official opening ceremonies of McCutcheon Real Estate offices in Our Shopping Center in Waveland. Participating with Snoopy were, from left, sales consultant James Kempf, Margie McCutcheon, Mayor John Longo, Mac McCutcheon and receptionist and sales consultant Jean Townsend. The new office is open seven days a week from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. or longer by appointment. The realty firm handles residential, commercial, acreage, rentals, sales and management. Also on the sales staff are Charlotte Johnson, Jane Mullere and Sam Blanchard. The Coleman Ave. office remains open with the same telephone number for both offices.

A lot of bull

Pearl River Junior College recently purchased these three Red Brahman bulls from McKellar Ranch in Mount Pleasant, Texas. A.M. McBride, PRC agriculturist, said the new breed was especially suited to this area because of their resistance to heat and insects. The animals were purchased through an educational discount at about half their normal price.

Better bulls make better breeds

Pearl River Junior College recently purchased three Red Brahman bulls from McKellar Ranch in Mount Pleasant, Texas. A.M. McBride, PRC agriculturist, said the new breed was especially suited to this area because of their resistance to heat and insects. The animals were purchased through an educational discount at about half their normal price.

J. W. McKie, area agronomist with the local Cooperative Extension Service, agreed with McBride. "The Red Brahman are especially suited for this area," McKie commented. "Their resistance to heat and insects makes them the perfect breed for this cattle area in south Mississippi."

Dr. Lee D. McKellar, owner of McKellar ranch, was very happy to give us such a good deal," McBride commented. "He was more than willing to get his breed here in south Mississippi - he wanted to get his bloodline in the state."

McKie, the local agronomist, commented that the breed was a very gentle animal, which is certainly not consistent with most thoughts of the Brahman breed in this area.

"The bulls have vigor and good dispositions as characteristics," McKie said. "They make good breeders because they father small boned calves which make calving easier."

Workshops are announced

A summary of seminars and workshops to be conducted by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service at various locations in the state during December has been announced.

Each meeting will feature the latest information to meet the needs and interests of the people of Mississippi. A wide range of subjects is included in the series of meetings.

The public is urged to attend. For further information about any specific event the local county office of the Cooperative Extension Service may be called.

Workshops will be held: December 5 - Carthage: Wild Game Cookery Workshop, Coliseum, 5:30 p.m. - 7:30 p.m. Dec. 12 - Greenwood: 4-H Sheep Showing Clinic, Delta District Livestock Show Barn, 6 p.m.

PROGRAM IMPACT
Labor Department evaluations indicate that the Public Employment Program designed to provide transitional jobs and needed public services during an economic slowdown, has had an impact both in reducing unemployment and in expanding useful local public services.

Home Makers Notes

SHRIMP FOR DECEMBER

Unlike many things today, there is no shortage of shrimp. In fact, cold storage holidays of shrimp are 25 percent higher than last year and about twice their normal level. The problem is that freezers and warehouses at the processor level are full and the consumer is simply not buying shrimp. Therefore, the price of shrimp to the fishermen has dropped significantly. If fishermen are not able to sell the shrimp they are now catching, they will be forced to stop fishing operations. This should be of especial concern to those of us living on the Gulf Coast.

Shrimp are easy and quick to prepare. With the holidays upon us, shrimp offer many elegant, easy-to-do dishes for busy homemakers.

The most common market forms of shrimp are: green, headless (raw, in shell) - fresh or frozen; peeled (no shell) - fresh or frozen; peeled and deveined - fresh or frozen, raw and fresh or frozen, cooked; breaded - fresh or frozen, raw or cooked; canned.

Shrimp are marketed in various sizes ranging from large to small. Most common is the medium size which yields about 25 to 40 raw shrimp per pound.

The size and amount of fresh or frozen shrimp needed depends on the intended preparation and the desired size of individual servings.

Since shrimp are marketed by both weight and count, here are some buying guidelines which may be helpful.

Use large size for entree's prepared with seasoned butter or a sauce. Buy about one-half pound fresh or frozen per serving or eight to ten shrimp per serving.

Use medium size in shrimp cocktail and entree's such as gumbos or curries. The general rule is that 12 ounces of raw in shell or 7 ounces of raw cleaned shrimp are for a one cup serving of a prepared dish. When a recipe calls for one pound of raw shrimp use one-half pound of cooked shrimp.

Small size are excellent for dips and spreads, canapés, open-face sandwiches, soups and salads. Buy quantity needed for specific preparation.

Shrimp enjoys the highest consumption rate of any shellfish. It was rated the number one fried food and the most popular appetizer in Gallup polls conducted among restaurants. Now with supplies plentiful and the entertaining season here, add a special touch with a decorative shrimp dish.
